HINT OF RAILROAD STRIKE IN CANADA

QUEEN OF RUMANIA VISITS VANCOUVER

Officially Greeted by Lieut.-Governor, Hon. W. Sloan and Mayor Taylor of Vancouver

Sees Peace Arch at Blaine, But Does Not Stop There; Prince Drives Auto

Vancouver, Nov. 5—Queen Marie came to Vancouver at noon to-day to say goodbye to Canada before beginning her journey homeward to Rumania through the United States. The city's honors were paid, first, however, to Prince Nicholas and Princess Ileana, her son and daughter, who motored from Blaine, Washington, on the Canadian-United States line.

Nicholas drove the car himself, with his sister bundled in furs beside him. The prince drove the forty-five miles in fast time over rain-washed roads, leaving other machines in the party far behind.

Queen Marie's welcome to the city and British Columbia was extended by Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce, Hon. William Sloan, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Mines, representing Premier Oliver, who was in the interior of the Province, and Mayor Louis D. Taylor of Vancouver.

The official regalia of the members of the queen's entourage and of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, together with the red coats of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, combined to make a brilliant spectacle at the station.

GREETED BY GOVERNOR

Lieut.-Governor R. Randolph Bruce entered the coach, and, bowing over the queen's hand, bid her welcome to British Columbia.

Queen Marie greeted each member of the reception party with a smile and spoke a few words in acknowledgment of the warm welcome extended by the various officials as she shook them by the hands.

After the official welcome the party left for a tour of the city and Stanley Park.

Following the motor car in which were Queen Marie and Lieut.-Governor Bruce, was a car containing Prince Nichols and Hon. William Sloan. Princess Ileana was in the next car, accompanied by Miss Helen Mackenzie, niece of the Lieutenant-Governor.

VANCOUVER CARS USED

A move on the part of a United States secret service man to have the royal visitors drive through Vancouver streets in cars which were brought up from Seattle to-day for the purpose was frustrated by the local officials, who won the day in carrying out the arrangements as planned.

A member of the Vancouver police force drove Queen Marie's car. Seated beside the driver was an officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Each of the cars carried the figas of the British Empire and of Rumania.

A rain that broke a two weeks' stretch of good weather failed to interfere with a motor tour of the city, after which the Rumanian visitors were guests at a civic luncheon.

BANQUET TO-NIGHT

A reception by the Women's Canadian Club was arranged for later in the afternoon and to-night Queen Marie will attend an official banquet.

300 AT RECEPTION

The Canadian Club reception was attended by more than 300 members, in addition to the many special guests.

Mrs. R. P. Butchart of Victoria, who was originally designated official hostess in that city for the Rumanian royal party had Queen Marie visited there, joined the royal train at Blaine en route here and was a guest. Mrs. Butchart is an honorary member of the Canadian Club Federation.

CANADA'S DEBT CUT BY OVER $6,380,000

Reduction During Month of October Reported by Department of Finance

Ottawa, Nov. 5 (Canadian Press)—Canada's national debt was reduced by $6,383,578 during October, according to a statement issued to-day by the Finance Department.

Last year the national debt of the country went up during October by almost half a million dollars.

The total net debt on October 31, 1926, was $2,329,443,601. At the end of September it was $2,335,827,179.

The statement points out that in arriving at these totals no credit has been taken for non-active assets.

The total liabilities of Canada are $2,816,628,893, and the total active assets are $487,185,292.

The total ordinary revenue during the month of October was $30,429,942, and the total expenditures $24,046,365, a slight increase in the ordinary revenue as compared with the same month last year. On the other hand, the expenditures were nearly $7,000,000 less in the month just closed than in October, 1925.

Narcotic Charges Are to be Heard In Terminal City

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—A remand for one week, accompanied by an order that the prosecution furnish the defence with all particulars in its possession, marked the appearance of Frank Marino, D. Marino, D. Cristofi, Lee Sing, L. Coy Gin and Wong Chong, in the police court here to-day, on charges of conspiracy under the Narcotic Drug Act.

The six accused were arrested following raids staged by men of the Customs Department and Mounted Police here and in Victoria three weeks ago.

Gordon Wismer, appearing for Cristofi, declared his demand to J. B. Ellis, K.C., for particulars had been refused. This was objected to and after much argument between various defence counsel and the special prosecutors, it was agreed that particulars should be furnished.

NEW PENALTIES ARE NOW LISTED IN ITALY

Fascists to Enforce Death Penalty For Plots Against Life of Mussolini

Rome, Nov. 5.—Sweeping measures to protect the Fascist regime from the activities of its enemies were approved to-day by the Cabinet, sitting under the presidency of Premier Mussolini.

The ministers adopted a provision making plots against the lives, liberty and integrity of the Premier and members of the royal family and plots against the Government of Italy punishable by death.

They also approved penalizing by imprisonment, varying from five to more than thirty years, any effort by an Italian or foreigner to injure Italy in fact or by propaganda.

Membership in any organization opposed to Fascism also will be punishable by heavy imprisonment. Nearly a dozen specific acts relating to direct or indirect activities against the regime will render the offenders liable to jail terms and perpetual interdiction from public office.

BOY FACES CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Three Youths and Two Girls in Auto in Vancouver Which Killed Woman

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Tales of a night of joyriding last Saturday in a hired car by three boys which resulted in the death of Mrs. Jean Hood were related to a coroner's jury here yesterday afternoon by those charged.

The jury returned the following verdict:

"That the deceased, Mrs. Jean Brash McTurk Hood, came to her death as the result of injuries received Saturday night when she was struck at Nanaimo and Venables Streets by an automobile driven by Felix Fredericks, aged sixteen, who was accompanied by Peter Masi and Joseph Citterelli and two girls."

Mrs. Hood died in a hospital Wednesday morning as the result of the injuries, according to medical evidence given.

The boys and girls mentioned are all minors. Citterelli, who is fifteen, is a messenger boy and is held without bail, charged as an accessory to the fact, while Masi has been released on $2,000 bail bonds as a material witness. The driver of the car is held without bail on a charge of manslaughter.

BOY COLLAPSED

"I have nothing to say here," declared Citterelli when told he could make a statement if he so desired, but was warned it might be used against him. "I will tell everything at the trial," he added and then collapsed.

The three boys sat together during the inquest and were acutely nervous.

Both Fredericks and Citterelli broke down and cried after the trio had been taken to the morgue to view the body of Mrs. Hood.

Vancouver Girl Dies As Result Of An Assault

South Vancouver, Nov. 5—Nellie Rago, nineteen, of Forty-eighth Avenue, victim of one of the most brutal assaults in the history of this municipality, committed July 22, died in the Vancouver General Hospital last night at 9 o'clock.

Her assailant, Peter de Luca, twenty-seven, an Italian, was sentenced to ten years and ten lashes by Mr. Justice Gregory on Wednesday in the assize court. When sentencing De Luca the judge remarked that the extreme penalty for such an assault was death.

Officials are unable to state if further action will be taken now that the victim is dead.

TALKS WITH STRIKERS IN GREAT BRITAIN

PREMIER BALDWIN

NEW MOVE TO END STRIKE IN BRITAIN

Prime Minister Talks With Representatives of Both Sides; Hope Grows

London, Nov. 5—Optimism over a possible early ending of the British coal strike was increased to-day after a meeting between representatives of the Government and the negotiation committee of the British Trade Union Congress. Their talk cleared up the situation sufficiently to induce Premier Baldwin to receive the miners' representatives in Downing Street this afternoon.

The Government was in communication with the mine owners during the day and it is expected they will be rallied into conference in Downing Street later.

The coal strike throughout Great Britain has been in progress since May 1 last.

MANCHESTER HONORS DOMINION PREMIERS

Freedom of City Conferred on Statesmen Attending Imperial Conference

London, Nov. 5.—(By cable from George Hambleton, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press)—Following a brief formal meeting of the Imperial Conference to-day, the Dominion Premiers left for Manchester, where they will receive the freedom of the city under somewhat strange circumstances.

According to reports, the Labor members of the Manchester City Council will not participate in the ceremony. The formal invitation cards, indeed, bear this unusual injunction: "No expression of opinion or noise of any kind can be allowed in the gallery."

To-night the Dominion Premiers will be guests at a banquet to be given by the Lord Mayor and City Corporation of Manchester.

DEFENCE DISCUSSION

While the conference committee of Premiers on inter-Empire relations for days has dealt with the difficult problems connected with these relations, there has been a pause for a few days before the full conference resumes its discussion of Empire defence. In this regard it is understood the situation in the Orient has been receiving some particular attention.

In its multitudinous aspects, the conference is keeping the delegates fully occupied, but behind the more or less routine work of the committees lie the important deliberations of the Premier's committee on inter-Empire relations. In one aspect of its work, that of treaty-making powers, it is understood some of the foremost jurists of Great Britain have been called in to give counsel. Fine shades of meaning, implications or complications in this phrase or that, are being threshed out in all their details.

DOUBLE STORIES

From the silences of Whitehall odd stories drift around. One story has it that the experts sit about the table sometimes for long intervals without a word being spoken, like chess players waiting for the next move. There are also rumors of differences among the delegates, but it is emphasized on all sides that the differences are only of opinion and that the best of good feeling prevails.

Great Theft in City of Los Angeles; Money Recovered

Los Angeles, Nov. 5—Theft of $74,000 from the Los Angeles branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco was disclosed here by the police early to-day with the arrest of Wesley Davis, twenty-two-year-old negro janitor of the institution, and recovery of $71,500 hidden in his home. An auto Davis declared he had purchased with part of the money also was seized.

Candy Dealers Heavily Fined By Magistrate

E. A. Morris Ltd. Pays $1,000 and John Harris $300 For Sale of Rum Candies

E. A. Morris Limited was fined $1,000, and John Harris $300, when Magistrate Jay handed down judgment in the city police court this morning finding them guilty of selling liquor in the candy form known as "rum chocolates" and similarly flavored delicacies.

On October 30 the last of the evidence in the case against the candy men was heard and the defence concluded. His Honor remanded the defendants for judgment and to-day handed down his findings in the matter.

The judgments read:

REX VS. JOHN HARRIS

Accused is charged that on the third day of September, 1926, at the City of Victoria, he did unlawfully keep for sale liquor, to wit, certain candies containing liquor, containing more than 1 per cent. of alcohol by weight, contrary to the Government Liquor Act.

A quantity of chocolate candies were found by the police upon the shop or premises of the accused, and are produced as exhibits in court, and the fact that they were kept for sale is admitted by the defence.

The Government analyst testifies that a sample of the chocolates produced in evidence had been analyzed by him, with the result that the same were found to contain 7.27 per cent. of alcohol by weight. One of the chocolates in exhibit was opened in court, and was found to be a chocolate shell inside of which was a capsule or sac, stated by the defendant to be of rice paper, and which contained a small quantity of liquid, testified by the Government analyst to be rum.

It is claimed by the defence that the candy or the chocolate and its contents are not liquor within the meaning of the Government Liquor Act, and in support of this contention counsel for the defence cites the case of Rex vs. Dojacek, 31 C.C.C., page 224. This was a case under the Manitoba Temperance Act, in which the defendant was charged with the unlawful possession of liquor, consisting of a patent medicine known as Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, and it was there held that as this was not a drinkable liquid within the meaning of the Manitoba Act, there could not be a conviction.

It should be noted that under the Manitoba Act it is provided "that the expression 'liquor' or 'liquors' "shall" include all fermented spirituous and malt liquors and all combinations of liquors and all drinks "and drinkable liquids which are in"toxicating and any liquor which "contains more than 2½ per cent. of "proof spirits shall be conclusively

SPANISH PLOTTERS HUNTED BY POLICE

French Guards in Region of Border Searching; 125 Men Now Under Arrest

Perpignan, France, Nov. 5.—The police in this region continue to search remote villages for possible further contingents of conspirators who had intended to make an expedition into Spain to set up the "State of Catalan."

When the 125 men now under arrest here saw the organizer of the movement, Colonel Francisco Macia, who surrendered yesterday, they gave their word of honor they would not seek to escape. Colonel Macia exhorted the members of his staff and the others of the detained men to remain calm. Almost all of them burst into tears as they listened to his words. The police say the men gave the impression they were not adventurers, but fanatics.

BANDS IN HIDING

Scattered bands of Spanish revolutionaries, completely disorganized, are seeking hiding places on the Spanish side of the Pyrenees Mountains, say reports reaching here.

The reports indicate the intended rebellion in Catalan would have been on a larger scale than previously described. Border police learned more than 600 men were to have composed the original invading force. This group was expected to received important accessions at every town and village passed as it marched toward Barcelona.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY BOSTON STUDENTS

600 Youths Attacked Electric Cars, Autos and Ballroom Before Police Arrived

Loss Estimated at Thousands of Dollars; Five Students in Court

Boston, Nov. 5.—Five students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology appeared in court here to-day on charges of malicious destruction of property during one of the most sensational collegiate riots ever waged in this city.

The riot, which finally assumed the proportions of a serious battle with the police reserves, during which several thousand dollars' worth of property was destroyed, started when 400 freshmen attempted to break up the annual sophomore banquet with tear gas bombs and came to hand-to-hand encounters with the sophomores.

After a few minutes of fighting an armistice was declared and the mob, 600 strong, started up Massachusetts Avenue for Harvard Square. Automobiles were wrecked on the way and trolley cars were stopped, their windows broken and wires cut. The University Theatre in the square was stormed, as well as the police station.

ATTACK ON SUBWAY

The students then "crashed the gate" of the subway and took possession of a car-train, riding into Boston free of charge. One woman passenger fainted during the ride, car windows were pulled out, electric lights broken and fire extinguishers emptied.

In Boston the rioters blocked traffic at Tremont and Boylston Streets by stopping automobiles, tearing off their number plates and doing other damage. Chased from that section by the police reserves, they went to a public ballroom farther up Boyle Street and wrecked its furnishings to the extent of $2,000, according to the management.

From there the police reserves finally succeeded in moving the collegians back to their native shore—the north bank of the Charles River.

MAN AND WOMAN RESCUED BY FIREMEN

Two in Apartment Building in Vancouver Had Narrow Escape This Morning

Vancouver, Nov. 5—Rescued by firemen from a smoke-filled suite at 768 Granville Street here, a man and woman were taken to a hospital at 8 o'clock this morning.

The woman, giving the name of Mrs. Carter, is in a serious condition, due not only to the effects of the smoke, but to loss of blood, as she received a severe cut on the right arm in breaking a window.

The man, who gave his name as William Cahill, is recovering.

Neither of the two was in a fit condition to submit to questioning as to the origin of the blaze, but it is believed a discarded lighted cigarette stub led to the flames getting their start.

FAIR STAR WINS PIMLICO RACE

Pimlico Racetrack, Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—Fair Star to-day won the Pimlico Futurity, $40,000 added, for two-year-old colts and fillies at one mile, the richest stake on an eastern United States track this season. Johagan was second and Whiskery third. The time was 1.40 3-5. The Foxcatcher Farm's entry, with Jockey Orville Bourassa up, paid its backers $28.20 to win, $12.10 to place and $5.90 to show for every $2 parimutuel investment.

INCOME TAX CUT IN U.S. IS TO BE OVER $300,000,000

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The Chicago Daily News prints a news story saying Martin B. Madden, chairman of the appropriation committee of the House of Representatives and "Watchdog of the Federal Treasury," is of the opinion taxes on next year's incomes will be cut between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000.

DOCTOR WILL GET FEES IN CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST ACTION

Lady Practitioner Awarded $200 For Services by County Court Judge

Judgment for $200 in favor of Dr. Annie Cleland, lady doctor who sued Frederiek Zeigler for $235 fees for attendance including nearly one hundred visits, to defendant's wife, between August 1924 and June 1926, is given in a written judgment handed down by His Honor Judge P. S. Lampman, following the hearing of the action in the County Court.

The judgment reads:

This is a claim for medical services rendered to the wife of the defendant.

The claim is disputed on the grounds that the plaintiff's visits to his wife were unnecessary, and that he did not think the plaintiff intended to make any charge for her services. It appears that the wife was suffering from tuberculosis for which she had consulted different Victoria doctors and her case was hopeless. She became interested in Christian Science and called in the plaintiff who, in addition to being a regular medical practitioner, has leanings towards Christian Science, and although she makes no claim to being a Christian Science practitioner, it was probably on account of plaintiff's leanings in the direction I have indicated that caused Mrs. Zeigler to call her in. No prescriptions to be filled at a drug store were given by plaintiff, and defendant concludes from this fact and an idea that he has "that medicine and Christian Science would not work together" that he should not be called upon to pay for plaintiff's services.

PAID BOARD MONEY

For some months prior to the wife's death, she was living at plaintiff's house, and defendant paid plaintiff $60 per month board money. From the time the wife went to stay at plaintiff's house, plaintiff made no

LATE RETURNS COME FROM U.S. ELECTION

47 Republicans, 47 Democrats, One Farmer-Laborite and One Senate Vacancy

Washington, Nov. 5.—Delayed and scattering returns to-day failed to change the party lineup in the House of Representatives in the Seventieth Congress of the United States, which remains:

Republicans 236; Democrats 195; Former-Labor, 2; Socialist 1, undecided 1.

A total of 218 is necessary for a majority.

SENATE DIVISION

The Senate will have 47 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite, with one vacancy from Maine to be filled at a special election on November 29.

Although the drive against the seating of William S. Vare, Republican, as the junior Senator from Pennsylvania because of alleged excessive campaign expenditures has opened, several senators, chiefly from the Democratic side, have agreed no action can be taken until Vare presents his certificate of election from Pennsylvania when the Twentieth Congress convenes.

STIFF COLLARS MUST DISAPPEAR, SAY FRENCHMEN

Paris, Nov. 5.—"Women the world over have discarded corsets. Why should men remain bound by the tyranny of the stiff collars?" is the rallying cry of the Anti-pillory Society here.

The society pledges its members to abandon stiff collars for ever, even with evening dress, substituting the old-fashioned stock or the modern soft collar.

A large membership is claimed for the society, but the lists of adherents have not yet been opened to the public life.

RAILMEN, WAGE RAISE REFUSED, DISCUSS COURSE

If Majority of Conductors' and Trainmen's Delegates Meeting in Montreal and Winnipeg Recommend Against Acceptance of Arbitration Board's Award Strike Vote Will Be Taken Among Employees Throughout Canada

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Canada may face a serious railway crisis within the next few days, following the recent decision against increases of wages to conductors and trainmen given in the majority report of a board of conciliation which investigated the men's demand.

Two hundred delegates, representing 15,000 members of the railwaymen's unions employed by Canada's two principal railways, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railway, on their lines east of Port Arthur are now in conference here, and, according to information trickling through from the meetings, which are being held en camera, the feeling of the men is against the acceptance of the award.

Should the majority of the delegates decide against the majority report of the conciliation board, strike ballots will be sent to all local unions for a vote.

WESTERNERS MEET

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—The general committee of the western divisions of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railway conductors, trainmen and yardmen is in session here to-day considering the recent award of the board of conciliation which investigated the men's wage dispute.

No official statement was issued, but it is understood that should the award be rejected by the general committe it would be favorable to a strike, if the eastern division officials should act in a like manner.

Hungary-Rumania Union is Denied

Budapest, Hungary, Nov. 5.—Premier Bethlen told Parliament to-day there was no foundation for the statement at yesterday's session by former Minister of Justice Nagy that everything had been prepared for an early union of Hungary with Rumania under a common sovereign.

DESCRIBED AS NONSENSE

London, Nov. 5 — Responsible British circles to-day characterized reports of a forthcoming Rumanian-Hungarian union under a common sovereign as "utter rubbish."

It is believed here that the reports in some manner are connected with the problem of Transylvania, which Hungary desires to regain, but nothing is known here about a scheme for the unification of the two countries and it is thought such a project would be highly impracticable.

Alaska Paper Mill Planned By Hearst

Washington, Nov. 5.—William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, filed an application to-day with the federal power commission for a preliminary permit to construct a power project in Alaska for the manufacture of paper.

The application, said Mr. Hearst, contemplated a project at Port Snettisham, in the Long National Forest, and a complete paper and pulp mill.

Several applications for preliminary permits with which the Hearst application is in conflict are pending. A license issued to the Alaska Pulp and Paper Company in August, 1924, covers a part of the same project.

Complete plans must be submitted to the commission before a license is issued.

A preliminary permit gives the applicant priority in the event the commission finds the plans feasible and not damaging to the public interest.

NARCOTIC ARRESTS IN ONTARIO FOUR

Mounted Police Working to Clear up Situation at Michigan Border

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 5.—Continuing their investigation on the activities of an alleged narcotic drug ring in the cities at the Ontario-Michigan border, members of which, it is charged, are several former Windsor police officers and two present officers, Mounted Police to-day caused the arrest of Sergt. Bert Hawkesworth.

Hawkesworth, with Ernest Hall and ex-Sergt. Fred Begg and his wife, police court matron, were arraigned at noon before Magistrate W. E. Gundy, who ordered a remand until to-morrow, when an application for bail will be considered.

Hawkesworth, Begg and Hall are accused of conspiracy to violate the Narcotic Drug Act and Mrs. Begg is charged with selling drugs.

EFFORTS TO RECOVER BODIES FROM MINE

Digging Out Remains of Fifty-one Men in Michigan Will be Long Task

Ishpeming, Mich., Nov. 5.—A faint hope that at least one of the fifty-one miners entrapped in the cave-in at the Barnes-Hecker Company's iron mine here would still be alive, prevailed for a time last night, but was soon abandoned when investigation this morning revealed the impossibility of human life surviving the crush of the tons of mud and water which filled the pit.

The hope was based on the possibility that Peter Durocha, in charge of a hydraulic pump house at the bottom of the shaft, might have been at work in the airtight and waterproof compartment at the time the mine was flooded.

Mine officials, however, after an investigation, ascertained the air lines to the pumphouse had been destroyed.

WATER LEVEL FALLS

The seeming impossibility of ever clearing the flooded pit took on a more encouraging aspect to-day as the water which filled the shaft receded of its own accord. Mine engineers expressed the opinion the water had broken through to underground caverns of adjacent worked-out iron mines.

As the water receded it was revealed that the main shaft had been stripped of all its bracings by the rush of water and sand when the swamp dropped into the mine, and was partly filled with timber and other wreckage.

NEW TIMBERING

New bracing apparatus must be constructed to prevent slides and a new elevator installed before the men can penetarte to the first level. Soundings have revealed that level is clogged with sand, and if an entry is made into it the workers must dig out any bodies that may be buried there.

This will continue for weeks or months, the officials fear, but they are going ahead with the work and have announced their determination to bring to the surface for proper burial the bodies of the victims.

NARROW ESCAPE

Wilfred Wills, twenty-three, the only man in the mine at the time of the cave-in to escape, told how he climbed the 800-foot shaft ladder from the 800-foot level in ten minutes while mud and water dropped into the mine by the collapse of the swamp bottom licked higher and higher at his feet. His boots were coated with mud when he emerged. Three companions who started with him were caught either by rising mud or falling debris in the shaft.

Farmer Found His Cow Drunk

Halifax, Nov. 5.—A special dispatch to The Halifax Chronicle from Caledonia, Queen's County, adds a new angle to the much-discussed question of prohibition. It reads:

"A local farmer turned his most famous thoroughbred cow out in the orchard for a few hours of exercise and observed her reeling and finally falling. Rushing to her assistance, he helped her to regain her feet. To his consternation, she repeated the performances, falling in a completely intoxicated condition. He discovered the cow had eaten heartily of apples which had been frozen while lying on the ground. Subsequent thawing had caused fermentation from which a considerable alcoholic content had resulted."

ARMISTICE DAY WILL BE OBSERVED AT UNIVERSITY

Unique in the fact that it is the first ceremony of its kind to take place at the University of British Columbia, Point Grey, Vancouver, will be the Armistice Day observance by the surviving members of the 196th Western Universities Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

At the last meeting of the Battalion Association it was resolved that every year, as long as any members of D. Company (the British Columbia Company) survive, a wreath should be placed on the honor roll which at present rests in the main entrance of the Science Building.

The committee in charge suggested to the University authorities that the student body should take part in the proceedings, and, in this President Klinck concurred. The following programme has therefore been arranged:

10.45—"O! Canada." Address by Rev. A. T. F. Holmes, graduate U.B.C. and member of the 196th Battalion. Placing of wreath by A. A. Milledge, president, University Battalion Association.

10.58-11 a.m.—Silence.

11.01—Last Post, Harold Haggart, ex-bugler of 196th Battalion.

God Save the King.

If weather permits, the student body, 1,200 strong, will be marshaled in front of the Science Building, where the ceremony will take place. If weather unsuitable the gathering will be held in the auditorium after the battalion body have laid their wreath.

Invitations are also being extended to bereaved parents or nearest relatives of the boys who were killed, and also to the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the 196th Battalion, who were responsible for the erection of the honor roll.

All 196th Battalion men, whether members of D. Company or not, are requested to be at the Court House Driveway, Vancouver, at 10 a.m., November 11.

TORONTO BEQUESTS DESCRIBED AS JOKE

Toronto, Nov. 5.—A will of the late Charles Millar, lawyer, racehorse owner and mining magnate, is dated 1921. The Toronto Evening Telegram says, and this statement is qualified by the possibility that a later will may yet be discovered.

Shares in the Ontario Jockey Club, valued at around $25,000, are to be distributed as follows:

One-third to Hon. Newton W. Rowell, K.C.; William E. Raney, K.C., and Rev. Benjamin Spence of the Prohibition Union.

Mr. Millar is said by The Telegram to have owned about $800,000 worth of stock in the O'Keake Brewery. The will bequeaths all the brewery shares to Methodist ministers of the Toronto conference who are members of the Orange Order. The will makes the provision that the beneficiaries must hold the stock for three years and draw dividends from it.

A rider said to be attached to the will is reported as adding that the will was made to see "whether their avarice for money is greater than their principles."

LATER WILL HUNTED

Friends are firm in the belief the will was drawn up as a joke and nullified by a later document which has not been found.

Another beguest in the will is said to be one of $10,000 to a Roman Catholic priest to say masses for the soul of a prominent citizen "who will need them wherever he is."

A bequest of a like amount is said to have been made to a business rival "as compensation for getting the worst of a deal."

The most surprising condition of the will is provision for the ultimate disposal of the estate. If those named in the will should refuse their bequests the whole would revert to the estate. The executors would administer the whole property until nine years after the testator's death. At the end of the period fixed in the will, or as soon as possible after October 31, 1935, the whole property included in the estate is to be sold and the proceeds given to the parents of the largest number of children born in the Province of Ontario within the said nine years of the testator's death.

Easier Work For Aged Mounted Police Force Hero

Calgary, Nov. 5.—"Peach" Davis, known forty-five years ago as the "bravest man in the Mounted," who was the hero of many a sensational report of the old Northwest Mounted Police, and is now seventy-four, yesterday received notice from the city land department here that on account of his age he would be transferred to a position carrying less money and responsibility.

Almost half a century ago Davis thrilled two continents by single handed reciving 1,100 Indians from their United States calvary escort at Fort Walsh, near the Montana border, and taking them without mishap to their new reservation in Saskatchewan. He is facing the present predicament with the same courage which carried him through many an exploit as a member of the scarlet-coated riders of the plains.

Davis came to Calgary as an original member of the Mounted Police in 1874, and has resided here ever since.

Three Japanese in Tacoma Murdered

Tacoma, Nov. 5.—A Japanese man and his wife and baby were slain in their room in a local hotel here early this morning by two gunmen believed to be Japanese.

Those killed were Karoku Takano, proprietor of a cafe, his wife and their five-year-old boy.

I. Matsumoto, proprietor of the hotel, told the police he was awakened by a series of shots and ran into the hall, where he saw two men he believed to be Japanese fleeing down the hall and toward a back stairway.

In the room occupied by the Takanos the three bodies were found lying on the floor. The body of the man, partly clad, was lying partly under the bed, and the body of the wife, with the body of the boy clapsed to the breast, lay near the door.

Garibaldi Held By Police in Nice

Nice, France, Nov. 5.—Col. Ricciotti Garibaldi, prominent Italian resident of Nice and grandson of the great Italian patriot, was arrested here yesterday by police in connection with the Catalonia plot and also recent Italian events. He was subjected to a long examination.

The Italian newspapers declare last Sunday's attempt on Premier Mussolini's life, when the assailant was killed, was a result of a plot hatched in Nice.

FAMOUS WOMAN MARKSMAN DEAD

Annie Oakley, Formerly With Buffalo Bill, Shot For Royalty

Greenville, Ohio, Nov. 4.—In the hills of Darke County, Ohio, where the girl, Annie Oakley, learned to handle a rifle, will rest the ashes of the noted marksman, who was perhaps the greatest woman shooter of all time.

Mrs. Frank Butler, better known in this and other countries as Annie Oakley, marksman and show woman, died here last night at the home of friends. She was sixty-six years old.

She was the friend of monarchs and the confidante of Chief Sitting Bull.

Acquintanceship with sovereigns of Europe colored her brilliant career, but one of the most picturesque episodes of her life was her close friendship with the taciturn old Indian chief, who greatly admired her shooting ability.

Annie Oakley could shoot perfect scores consistently. During one of her European tours King George V of England told her she was the "best rifle shot in the world," and awarded her a medal. Once in the early eighties Annie Oakley, with a bullet from her rifles, flicked the ashes from a cigarette held in the lips of former Crown Prince Wilhelm of Germany. She won fame as a show woman with "Buffalo Bill" Cody's troupe.

Annie Oakley started her career in the hills around this section. She was in her teens when she met Frank Butler, then regarded as an expert rifleman and not long after she was widely known.

Injuries received in a train accident in 1901 resulted in one side of her body being almost completely paralyzed. Some of her best records for straight and fancy shooting, however, were made after she recovered. At Pinehurst, N.C., in 1922 she broke 100 clay targets straight from the sixteen-yard mark.

IMBECILE CHILD IS KEPT IN BASEMENT

Mother Tried For Years to Find Institution For His Care

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 5.—Because of regulations which prevent his admission to government institutions, Noel Crane, an eight-year-old imbecile child, has been kept locked in a basement room while his mother, bread-winner for the little family of five, works in Detroit.

Attention was drawn to the case when neighbors, excited by rumors that a child was being kept incarcerated under intolerable conditions, broke into the house and found him.

Mayor Frank J. Mitchell of Windsor investigated and ordered the child taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Mrs. Bruce Crane, thirty, the mother, told the press to-day that she has been trying for years, without success, to have the child placed in a proper institution. She was forced to keep him in the basement because his habits were so unclean, she said.

The child was born of an American father in the United States, and on this account admittance to a new hospital for such cases at Orillia has been denied.

Theft-proof Bag For Mail Invented By Life Prisoner

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 5.—Norman (Red) Ryan, serving a life sentence in the penitentiary here for bank robbery, has perfected a theft-proof lock for mail bags for which patent rights will be sought in the convict's name, it was learned to-day.

The new device, it is understood, has been surrendered to the authorities of the Post Office Department of Canada. Two models have been forwarded to Brig.-General W. S. Hughes, superintendent of penitentiaries, who will seek to protect the invention.

REV. J. F. CHASE DIED IN BOSTON

Boston, Nov. 5.—The Rev. J. Franklin Chase, prominent locally for years as a campaigner against vice and internationally kown for his attempt last Spring to suppress The American Mercury, died yesterday after a brief illness.

For nearly twenty years he actively directed the war waged on the drug, liquor and gambling evils by the New England Watch and Forward Society, of which he was secretary.

His activities brought him frequently into court as he sought the suppression of books and magazines, and he personally participated in many raids on gambling places.

The case reverts to provincial jurisdiction.

FORT WORTH TRIAL

Austin, Texas, Nov. 5.—Trial of Rev. Dr. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth Baptist minister, on a charge of murder for the slaying of D. C. Chipps, wealthy lumberman, in the office of the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth last July, was tentatively set for January 10 here today.

SUPERLATIVE ART BY GEORGE ARLISS IN "OLD ENGLISH."

Ovation Accorded Brilliant Performance at Royal Victoria Theatre

After an all-too-long absence, which, happily, he informed the audience, would not be repeated, George Arliss, the distinguished actor, has returned to Victoria, and in "Old English" gave an appreciative audience at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening one of the most brilliant performances seen here in many years.

In Galsworthy's play, Mr. Arliss has a vehicle worthy of his superlative art, for in the working out of the character and destinies of Sylvanus Heythorp, the "Old English" of the play, the noted British dramatist has given an intimate and entertaining study.

"Old English" or Sylvanus Heythorp is the eighty-six-year-old chairman of a Liverpool navigation company. In his dealings with his shareholders he proves himself as nimble of wit and shrewd of judgment as the youngest of them. In his private life he is a bon viveur, an unrepentent sinner, reveling in memories of the rascality of his younger days.

Mr. Arliss gave an unforgettable picture of the aged reprobate, his every gesture and look breathing the very spirit of indomitable courage and almost fanatical independence, unconquered by the increasing infirmities of old age. When, in order to secure a modest income for the children of his "natural" son be indulges in a doubtful business transaction, and is trapped by an unscrupulous lawyer, he faces ruin with no qualms and no regrets. One of the finest pieces of acting ever seen in Victoria is that in the last scene, where the venerable sinner, facing ruin, dines in solitary state with all the enjoyment of a gourmet—then, so fortified, defeats his enemies.

Mr. Arliss was supported by an excellent caste. Joseph Pillin, convincingly played by Ivan F. Simpson, as the dessicated, pessimistic old business associate, proved an admirable foil to "Old English." Lillian Brannard played admirably as Heythorp's old-maid daughter, and Irby Marshall gave a clever study of Rosamund Larne, the Bohemian widow of Heythorp's natural son, while Molly Johnson, as her daughter, Phyllis, proved a delightful ingenue. Allan Trotter, as Bob Pillin, suitor for Molly's hand, and Murray Kinnell, as Ventnor, the unscrupulous solicitor, also merit much commendation.

At the close of the play Mr. Arliss was accorded an ovation, in response to which he gracefully thanked the audience for the tribute and signified his intention of returning again to Victoria at no very distant date.

"Old English" will be repeated tonight and Saturday afternoon and evening, and all those who care for a combination of superlative drama superlatively acted should not fail to see this production.

GREAT LIQUOR SEIZURE MADE IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 5.—Two hundred and fifty thousand gallons of whisky, the largest seizure ever made in this country, was taken over by prohibition officers yesterday, when agents took charge of the Keat warehouse in Brooklyn, the largest bonded warehouse in the United States. Chester P. Mills, district prohibition administrator, placed the minimum value of the whisky at $6,000,000.

PLAGUE OF DOGS

Calgary, Nov. 5.—Dogs have become so numerous in Calgary that the city council is discussing regulations requiring owners to keep their dogs locked up at night or on leashes. One alderman is in favor of forbidding the streets to dogs altogether unless they are on leashes. An aldermanic dog fancier wishes to retaliate against cats. A similar discussion some time ago ended in such a hot argument the subject was dropped.

QUEEN OF RUMANIA VISITS VANCOUVER

Hotel Vancouver have never appeared at better advantage than they did this afternoon, decorated with Rumanian flags and coats-of-arms, in honor of Queen Marie. Her party was welcomed by Mrs. W. A. Clark, the president.

Wives of the consuls and vice-consuls of foreign countries, who are, according to the constitution of the Women's Canadian Club, honorary members, were present.

Sir Henry and Lady Thornton, who were unable to be present owing to a prior engagement, sent their regrets.

CHAIR WAS THRONE

Following the presentation of the invited guests, the Rumanian party was escorted into the ballroom to the strains of the Rumanian National Anthem, the visitor's progress, watched by the throng of assembled members. The Queen was seated upon a specially-draped chair on the platform, with the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Helen Mackenzie.

The Queen was delightfully simple in her talk to the large throng of interested listeners, her voice and manner, as well as her words displaying an effectionate interest in Canada and Canadian women.

To-day saw no new developments in the delicate situation aboard the royal train caused by differences between Samuel Hill, Seattle millionaire, who invited Queen Marie to come to the United States to dedicate his museum at Maryhill, Wash., and Major Stanley Washburn, special aide to the Queen.

Major Washburn did not leave the train this morning at Blaine, where Queen Marie and a few members of her party had a waffle breakfast at Mr. Hill's home.

DID NOT STOP

After the meal Queen Marie drove back to the train without stopping to inspect the Peace Portal which Mr. Hill built to commemorate a century of friendly relations between Canada and the United States. Mr. Hill pointed the structure out to Queen Marie, however, as the car swept past.

RADIO PROGRAMME

Airs and national folk songs of her own country were broadcast by radio station CNRV here this morning to Queen Marie as she sped north in her private train.

The concert was authorized by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, and lasted from 10 o'clock till noon.

While the royal car is here its radio equipment will be thoroughly inspected and any minor repairs necessary made by the radio engineers of the Canadian National Railways.

TRUCE ON TRAIN

Queen Marie's Train En Route to Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Queen Marie's special train moved on toward Vancouver to-day with a truce, temporary at least, having outwardly closed the breach among the controlling parties aboard.

Major Stanley Washburn, special aide to the queen, and Samuel Hill, Seattle millionaire, who induced Queen Marie to come from Rumania to dedicate his unfinished museum of fine arts at Maryhill, Washington, were aboard the train despite Hill's announced intention to put the major off here. Major Washburn will remain with the party at the request of Colonel John H. Carroll, host to the queen, who with Washburn left Queen Marie's box at the Portland Horse Show two nights ago after Mr. Hill had publicly criticized the special aide.

SAID HE WAS BOSS

Threatening to slap Major Washburn's face and to "crush" him if the aide disobeyed his orders, Hill had declare he was "boss" of the tour. Washburn and Carroll immediately excused themselves to the queen and returned to the train.

In a statement last night Colonel Carroll, who has effected a truce between Washburn and Hill, declared he was "very much surprised that a guest of the queen" should threaten to put the major off the train, adding that Washburn had been selected by Queen Marie herself because of his assistance to her during the World War.

He suggested that "the great ovation paid to the queen at the Maryhill Museum and the queen's tribute to Mr. Hill there as an old friend had turned his head. In dedicating the museum Queen Marie had praised Hill as a "dreamer and worker," whom she understood, "because I, too, am a dreamer and worker."

NO EXPULSIONS

Colonel Carroll's statement said Major Washburn "will remain on this train until the journey is finished," and that "no one will be expelled from it except by my orders."

Mr. Hill and Carroll attended the queen last night at a dinner in Seattle, and later, during a brief visit to a theatre, but Major Washburn remained in his private car.

AT PEACE ARCH

Another structure built by Mr. Hill awaited Queen Marie's inspection to-day at Blaine—the Peace Portal commemorating a century of peace between the United States and Canada. It is a cement arch ringed by red, white and blue lights.

After leaving Blaine, Vancouver was the day's destination of the Rumanian party.

Returning to-morrow, the party will pass through Blaine, Seattle and Spokane again before continuing to Glacier National Park and thence by a zigzag course to the City of Washington, present terminus of the tour.

A florida trip may be decided on later.

SEATTLE VISIT

Seattle, Nov. 5.—With her party upset by a dispute among the guiding heads of her tour, Queen Marie arrived in Seattle yesterday and found the city equally disturbed because her late arrival had forced the crowding of a day-long programme into a few hours.

The shortened reception and entertainment scheduled went through however, with Governor Hartley and Mayor B. K. Landes inaugurating it with greetings on behalf of the state and city.

The late arrival here was caused by the Queen herself, who directed that her train be held nearly an hour at Longview early yesterday morning, while she made a before-breakfast inspection of a lumber mill there.

Differences between Samuel Hill, host to the Queen, whose incompleted museum of fine arts at Maryland, Wash., was dedicated by her on Wednesday, and Colonel John H. Carroll, who is in charge of the tour, and Major Stanley Washburn, special aide to the Queen, were patched up to a degree before the train pulled into Seattle.

Disarmament Conference in 1928 Planned

Geneva, Nov. 5.—A general disarmament conference in 1928, which would make some beginning toward limitation of armaments on sea and land and in the air, with an agreement to hold a second conference within five years, is the programme of statesmen close to the preliminary disarmament negotiations, which ended to-day with the framing of a complete report of technical questions.

The next meeting of the preparatory disarmament commission is expected to be called next Spring, and not before, as the leaders wish time for the transmission of the technical report to all governments and for a mature study of it by them.

The general belief is that no disarmament conference is likely for 1927, as desired by the last League of Nations Assembly. It is felt consideration of the political aspect of the problem will not be completed in time.

DOCTOR WILL GET FEES IN CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST ACTION

charges in respect to medical attendance, and defendant states that when he made the first payment of $60, plaintiff, in reply to his question, told him that the $60 was the total amount he owed her. Plaintiff denies having said this, and I see no reason for accepting defendant's statement in preference to plaintiff's and consequently he fails to prove his allegation in this respect.

Apparently, not much could be done for Mrs. Zeigler—so far as is known nothing could be done to cure her—but it is usual for people to have medical attendance between the time when their ailment is pronounced incurable and of the time of death. Sometimes the unexpected happens and in the cases when it does not happen, a doctor can do much to alleviate suffering.

In the latest edition of Shirley's Leading Cases, it is stated, at p. 43:

(1) When husband and wife are living together, there is a presumption that the wife has her husband's authority to enter into a contract, in all domestic matters ordinarily entrusted to a wife, so as to bind him for necessaries; that is, a reasonable supply of such goods and service as are suitable in kind, sufficient in quantity, and necessary, in fact, for the use of the husband, wife, children and household, according to the conditions in which they live. But there are several ways in which a husband may rebut the presumption. He may show:

(a) That at the time when his wife incurred the debt she was already properly supplied with necessaries, or, which is the same thing, with money to purchase them.

(b) That he expressly forbade her to pledge his credit.

(c) That he expressly forbade the plaintiff to trust her.

(d) That the credit was given to the woman herself.

None of the above defences are open to defendant, but I have given some consideration to (d). It appears that plaintiff's first attendance on Mrs. Zeigler was in August, 1924, and that on December 31 in that year she rendered an account to Mrs. Zeigler, and that she never rendered another account until after Mrs. Zeigler died, and she then made her claim for all her services against him. During the time of her visits husband and wife were living together, so far as appears Mrs. Zeigler had no separate means of her own and never paid plaintiff anything, and the mere fact of plaintiff rendering an account to her does not show that credit was given to her, and preclude plaintiff from claiming against the husband.

Christian Science may be an "advanced" doctrine, but in dealing with it in legal documents in the law courts, the usual practice should prevail; my progress has not yet advinced to a point at which I can view with anything but alarm the spelling and composition in paragraph 5 of the defendant's dispute note which ran as follows:

"That defendant further says that his said wife was adhered to the doctrine of Christian Science and apposed to the use of medicines or medical treatment, which the plaintiff well new at all material times as aforesaid."

The plaintiff is entitled to judgment for $200.

Conservatives Not to Oppose B.C.'s Federal Minister in East Kootenay

Cranbrook, B.C., Nov. 5. — At an executive session of the Conservatives of the East Kootenay Federal constituency, it was decided there would be no Conservative opposition to the return to the House of Commons of Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Health and Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and his election by acclamation is thereby assured. This is the first time in the political experience of Dr. King in this riding, extending over twenty years, that he has been given an acclamation.

DRY VOTERS WIN IN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—A blast of arid votes from Los Angeles, prohibition stronghold of California, buried the proposal to repeal the state liquor law under a majority of more than 55,000 votes as straggling returns from Tuesday's election were eabulated early to-day.

With only 429 precincts missing, wet leaders felt little hope the dry majority would be wiped out.

Lisbon, Portugal, Nov. 5.—An attempt to assassinate High Commissioner de Azevedo Countinno of Mozambique, Portuguese East Africa, was frustrated, according to private advices from Johannesburg received here yesterday. The high commissioner escaped without injury.

What do children eat?

Are you "stuffing" them with white flour bread, potatoes and pastry? You can't build sturdy, robust boys and girls out of carbohydrates alone. They need the proteins, mineral salts and vitamins in the whole wheat grain. They get all of them in SHREDDED WHEAT. It is the whole wheat made digestible by shredding and baking—the most perfect process ever devised for preparing the whole wheat berry for the human stomach. No one has been able to improve upon or even approach our process. Each shred of whole wheat is crisp and thoroughly baked. SOUND PHILOSOPHY

IF MORE PEOPLE IN THIS COMMUNITY would borrow some of Sir Henry Thornton's philosophy and act upon it, the effect would soon be manifested in the general increase of local business. Here are one or two samples of optimism to which the President of the Canadian National Railways gave expression before the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade the other day:

I never knew anyone win a fight who started licked.

The troubles of to-day are the jokes of to-morrow.

The battles of to-day are the victories of to-morrow.

There are those in every community who find it much simpler to say a thing can not be done than to try and discover a way of doing it. In their own particular cases there may be no apparent necessity to alter conditions at all. They may have all they want and little else matters. At least they may think they have all they want; but perhaps it does not occur to them that this attitude towards the welfare of the community in which they live is not as sound as it may appear. Towns and cities do not stand still in an economic sense. They either progress or lag behind. If they lag it stands to reason that some of the securities from which the complacent citizen draws his income must gradually deteriorate in value and cause a reduction in dividend. Some holdings, of course, are immune from the effect of local fluctuations; but in a general sense the majority are not, and this applies particularly to property.

Conversely, the complacent citizen who has an eye to business can help himself very materially by lending some of his good fortune in more ways than one to the community which may be in need of it. It does not mean that he should be called upon to plunge into the first thing that is recommended to him because it is put up to him in a "popular" fashion. But it follows that if he supports legitimate undertakings, he not only increases his own bank balance, but contributes his fair share to the commonweal and improves the lot of his fellowman with whom he rubs shoulders from day to day.

This is the motive which should actuate the citizen who has amassed sufficient of this world's goods for all his known and anticipated requirements. What real consolation can be extracted from the possession of great wealth unless it be accompanied by the knowledge that it is being employed for useful purposes? The happiest man is the busy man. And he is the man upon whom the progress of all countries very materially depends. The contented home is a greater factor in human affairs than the bulging bank vault. Nobody has a monopoly of happiness. It is none the less true that all of us could get a little more of it if we would look around and measure up our opportunities for practical usefulness.

Victoria needs more of the spirit of up and doing. It is often a matter for speculation as to what sort of a transformation would be effected if this community were completely dominated by the doctrine that the best place is the busy place and that the happiest people are the busy people.

OVERREACHING HIMSELF

REPORTS FROM ROME DECLARE that Mussolini is about to give the people of Italy a brand new set of laws that he thinks will remove all forms of opposition to him and his policies. These include the death penalty for all persons connected in any way with plots against his life, provision for police reorganization in order that a closer watch may be kept on all those who disagree with Fascism and its methods, and a sweeping revision of the party's membership so that the lukewarm ones may be weeded out without further delay.

It is natural that Mussolini should take what precautions he considers essential for his personal safety and the safety of his government; but no single individual in the world can pass laws or take any other action that will bend a whole people to his will. The more drastic the measures which the Italian Prime Minister shall take, the more he and his government will be exposed to that not inconsiderable element in Italy which still remembers its country's sacrifices for freedom.

Mussolini has served Italy in many ways. He restored order in the country; but all the benefits which his methods produced are now being paid for at too great a price. There is no more liberty in the land. Coercion has replaced common justice. What country is there in the world that will tolerate such a condition indefinitely? Every time Mussolini adds to his authority he hastens his own political end. He also increases the animosity of that large section of the Italian people that resents the suppression of its liberty of thought and action.

THE RUSSIAN ENIGMA

NEWS FROM MOSCOW DECLARES that Trotzky and Zinovieff and other rebellious leaders have emerged from the ten-day Communist Party Conference with nothing worse than a vote of censure against them for their activities. This relatively mild form of treatment follows closely the expulsion of Trotzky from the all-powerful political bureau and Zinovieff from the Third Communist Internationale. It is taken to mean that the Party is anxious to avoid advertising the existing cleavage between its members.

Although Trotzky was the trusted confederate of Lenin, familiar with his ideals and methods, he lacks the qualities which gave the late leader so unique a place in the hearts and minds of the people. He sees in the power of the peasant—admittedly better off now than he has ever been in his life—an element of danger to the revolution unless great care shall be exercised in the shaping of future policies. Zinovieff, on the other hand, is an extremist at the far end of the revolutionary left. It is common knowledge that his ideas of world revolution, or proletarian dictatorship, take little stock in the welfare of the Russian peasant.

The course which Premier Stalin is endeavoring to pursue is about half way between that of the left and the right. His object is the reconciliation of the two. He, like Trotzky, is not unmindful of the danger of exploiting the peasant for the benefit of the industrialist. Nevertheless the peasant to him is anathema.

After all, it is the peasant who will determine the future of Russia. He is the cause of the split among the Communist leaders. The conflicting elements may be described as the pro-peasant group and the pro-industrialist group. The descriptions may not fit them perfectly; but it is this factional division which has produced the bone of contention.

As head of the central executive committee, Stalin has made it known that he is desirous of changing the Government's foreign policy. It is suggested that he has succeeded in getting the extremists to drop their fiery propaganda and assist him to obtain the recognition of other nations. Even the settlement of Russia's debts is part of the new plan, although, of course, the move in this respect is accompanied by a "joker." Russia wants to borrow money.

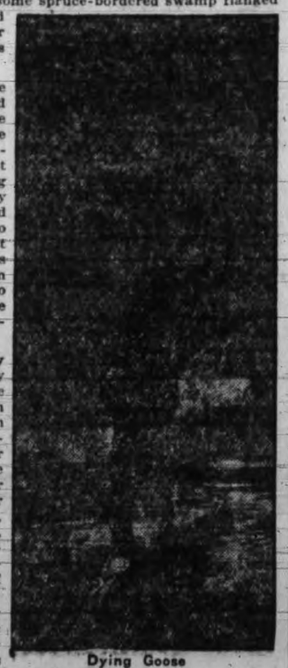
In any event, recent developments in the Soviet domain merely furnish more proof that the Communist theory is still a theory as far as practical politics is concerned. The one who has benefited most from the revolution is the Russian peasant—apart from the few who are the Government and its "administrators"—and yet it is the peasant, the inarticulate but also incalculable, who is the thorn in the side of the extremist doctrinaire who has been his benefactor.

Queer Quirks of Nature

By ARTHUR N. PACK

High in the air a flying wedge of Canadian geese, led by some wise old gander, seeking a Winter home in southern bayous. What memories and fancies they bring to one's mind!

In some far northern marsh, perhaps within the sound of the restless ice-strewn waters of Hudson Bay, perhaps in some spruce-bordered swamp flanked by snow-covered mountains, their Summer was passed.



Dying Goose

There the broods were raised and thence, as the first heralds of the Ice King threatened to set fast their feeding grounds, they rose and arranged their ranks into the wedge that experience has taught them serves best to help them cleave swiftly the pathways of the air.

Yesterday they paddled the icy waters of the north; with Winter close on their trail; to-day they gather their food in the hazy calm of our Indian Summer days; to-morrow, if they wished, they might be reveling in the endless Summer of the tropics.

And, as they fly, one of their number suddenly closes his wings and falls lifeless to the marsh. Perhaps some far-flung shot, sent at random at the speeding flock, had found its mark in some less vital spot, gradually weakening the strong heart and willing muscles as they strove to keep up with the fast-flying band.

Perhaps old age had set its final curb on that once tireless frame. At any rate, his seasoned flights between the tropics and the arctic are past forever.

As the poet has truly said, we may well gain a lesson from this far-flying band of waterfowl winging its way unerring through the pathless heavens, needing neither guide-post nor compass.

"He who, from zone to zone guides through the boundless sky thy certain flight, in the long way that I must tread alone, will guide my steps aright."

And, when our time comes to die, may we all meet death as bravely and as fearlessly as the wild goose, who, even though wounded unto death, strives with his fellows along the appointed path until he reaches the end of the trail and uncomplaining, dies.

A THOUGHT

Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?—Gal. iv., 16.

Truth is a good dog; but beware of barking too close to the heels of an error, lest you get your brains kicked out.—Coleridge.

Do You Mean What You Say?

"HANGING FIRE"

A gun or pistol which fails to go off is said to be "hanging fire." Thus originated this expression which in everyday usage means "to fail in an expected result." A matter which is "hanging fire" is one upon which no definite report has been made, either affirmative or negative.

Canadian Questions and Answers

STONEY CREEK

Q.—What is the historic interest attached to Stoney Creek?

A.—Stoney Creek, near Hamilton, was the scene of a battle during the war of 1812 when in June, 1813, a small force of Canadian and British soldiers surprised and captured a much larger American force that was advancing from the Niagara River. This victory probably saved all of Western Ontario from capture. A monument marks the spot, and the old Gage House also recalls the event.

RE ARMISTICE

To the Editor:—After eight years of peace we are preparing to render the annual tribute of honor to the men who died that we might live in peace and security. The poignant grief which hundreds of our citizens suffered during the years of war is mercifully lessened by the healing hand of time; but time can never remedy their loss nor fill the chairs made vacant by the sacrifice of men "good and true."

On Sunday a memorial service will be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre at 2.50 p.m., preceded by a parade of veterans; and a short service will be held at the Memorial in the grounds of the Parliament Buildings at 11 a.m. Thursday, November 11, when the universal two minutes' silence will be observed. The Armistice Period committee, which represents all the ex-service organizations, hope the citizens of Victoria will align themselves with the ex-Service men on these occasions to pay fitting tribute to those who died in order that we might live.

Poppy Day will be observed on Saturday, November 6, when poppies made by disabled ex-service men will be sold in the streets. Proceeds of the sale are used to assist ex-Service men who find themselves in distressed circumstances. The extent to which they can be helped depends upon the generosity of the public in buying poppies. The need is great and the public is asked to respond in full measure.

May I suggest that the greatest tribute to the honored dead is practical assistance, rendered in their name to the living comrades who fought with them and now need a kindly hand to help them along in the struggle against sickness and adversity.

As memories of war days grow dimmer, the men who took part in the great adventure grow older and in some cases feebler; each year the problem of the veterans becomes more acute; and will continue to do so until they also become a memory, kept green in the pages of history.

On behalf of the Armistice Period Committee I wish to thank all who have assisted the movement in past years and for their renewed assistance to date this year.

ROBERT MACNICOL,
Secretary Armistice Period Committee.

CHARACTER BUILDING

To the Editor:—Having seen an article in The Times of November 2, advocating music be taught in the High Schools, I am tempted to write the following:

I should advocate that we have politeness, good manners and character building taught as a special subject. It should be in the curriculum.

The world's famous educationists, who met in Montreal a short time ago, all agreed that character building must be among the fundamentals of all correct teaching. They said a man without character was of little use in the world, however high his mental attainment may be. In fact education may make a man of bad character all the more dangerous to society.

When our pupils are through schooling they will want a position where they can apply what they have learnt, and to get this position they will want a polish that will not rub off and character building will give this polish.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times November 5, 1901

Two Victorians, Capt. J. C. Voss and N. K. Luxton have crossed the Pacific Ocean from this port to Samoa in a war canoe, the Pelican, according to information received to-day.

At 3 o'clock this morning, when she arrived here, the C.P.N. steamer Amur completed the roughest voyage from the North which she has ever experienced. Crossing Queen Charlotte Sound she encountered wind of terrific violence according to her captain.

A terrific wind storm approximating fifty miles an hour in velocity struck the city yesterday afternoon making most of the downtown streets untenable. No serious damage was done.

MUSSOLINI SAYS ATTEMPTS ON HIS LIFE WILL FAIL

Rome, Nov. 5.—"I am convinced all attempts against my life are doomed to fail," Premier Mussolini smilingly remarked to Lord Lloyd, the British High Commissioner to Egypt, who in passing through Rome paid a visit to the Premier to congratulate him on his escape last Sunday when a youth attempted to kill him and was himself killed by the crowd.

The Duce lightly dismissed his visitor's concern about his safety, repeating his conviction that he was fated to live until he had accomplished his task.

Mussolini to-day received from war veterans a gift of a Roman gladiator's sword.

Relations of The Countries in Empire Debated

London, Nov. 5 (By Cable from George Hambleton, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press)—The London Daily News, dealing editorially with the question of inter-Empire relations says:

"For our part we hope the representatives of the British Government will do something more useful than express pious opinions about the advantages of consulting the Dominions on foreign affairs, or make general promises to keep the Dominion Governments in close and regular touch on diplomatic movements and negotiations."

After referring to the Locarno episode, the News adds:

"To be candid, we believe the British Cabinet is fully alive to the fact that this perilous system can not be persisted in and that some way must be found to ensure not only that the Dominions shall know what is happening, but also that they shall enjoy an effective share in policy control."

FERGUSON DECLARES FOR TEMPERANCE

Ontario Premier Addresses Voters on Liquor Control Plan; Election Dec. 1

Brampton, Ont., Nov. 5.—"What I want and what I intend to have is the great mass of people supporting me, and sympathetic toward the law," declared Premier Ferguson to an audience here last night, in expressing his determination to push his policy of education for temperance to such a point that the old convention of "it is not done" would become firmly disestablished in the public's mind.

"That condition of affairs," he said, "will do more than any attorney-general and his enforcement squad. It will accomplish more than any pains or penalties attached to a law."

There would be no campaign against the makers of home brew in Ontario, Premier Ferguson said in explaining previous statements on this phase of his liquor policy. The manufacturers of home brew who would need to have fear of the law would be those who attempted to make profits from their operations, he said.

The Conservative Government, headed by Premier Ferguson, is appealing to the people of Ontario on a policy of government control and sale of alcohol liquor under a local option system.

Polling is set for Dec. 1.

NICKLE'S OPINION

Toronto, Nov. 5.—The Toronto Star published a statement obtained at Kingston from F. W. Nickle, former Attorney-General of Ontario, who resigned from the Conservative Government on account of differences of opinion in regard to the liquor policy on which it is appealing to the people of Ontario in the general election on Dec. 1.

Mr. Nickle in his statement says the new proposal for government sale and control of liquor will result in a law harder to enforce than the present Ontario Temperence Act.

"I have studied the Canadian situation," he said, "and I know of no province where there is anything like adequate government control. If Mr. Ferguson thinks the Ontario Temperence Act can not be enforced—I do not agree with him—then let me tell him bluntly, his suggested law will be infinitely harder to enforce."

CARR'S OPINION

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 5.—Hon. Leeming Carr, M.B., a member of the Ontario Government without portfolio, in a statement to-day, challenged statements attributed to Premier Ferguson to the effect that "home brew was often the most poisonous and destructive of concoctions made in the province."

"I am frankly surprised at the announcement made by Premier Ferguson, and, as a medical man, frequently brought into close contact with all kinds of maladies and diseases, I must say I have not encountered any such condition as that depicted by the premier," Carr declared.

McCREA NOMINATED

Sudbury, Ont., Nov. 5.—Hon. Charles McCrea, Ontario Minister of Mines, was unanimously selected to contest Sudbury in the coming provincial general election, at a Conservative convention here yesterday afternoon.

The Minister of Mines supported the Ferguson Government, stating he would sooner have his children brought up under conditions that existed prior to the Ontario Temperance Act than under present conditions.

LIQUOR VOTES IN AREAS IN SCOTLAND BRING NO CHANGES

Edinburgh, Nov. 5 (Canadian Press Cable(—Early returns on the voting on local option in various parts of Scotland under the Scottish Temperance Act on Tuesday show the position is unchanged from that of the last three years. The dry areas have elected to continue dry, and the wet districts have similarly voted to continue wet.

Aberdeen, Perth and Falkirk will continue wet, Kirkintilloch and Stewarton reaffirmed their dry policy by somewhat increased majorities.

Glasgow will vote on local option December 7.

Sidney

Sidney, Nov. 5.—The Sidney Social Club held its weekly card party Wednesday evening in Berquist Hall, seven tables being occupied. The winners of the first prize were: Ladies, Mrs. H. L. Ricketts and Mrs. Govan; gents, A. Sootheran and J. Robinson. Mrs. Gilman and Mr. Fralick were in charge of the refreshments.

Mrs. George Brethour and daughter of Courtenay are visiting friends and relatives in Sidney this week.

Mrs. J. McDaniels of Seattle is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White, Second Street.

The business meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church will be held on Wednesday, November 10, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ramsay, Fifth Street, Sidney.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the school at 8 o'clock on Tuesday, November 16. The main business is to discuss the children's fancy dress party to be held in Berquist Hall, December 17. A dance for the adults will follow to defray expenses. As this is a good organization for benefiting school and children, it is to be hoped more parents will take an interest and join this association.

A poppy dance will be held on Armistice Day, November 11, by the North Saanich branch of the Canadian Legion. Good music and a good programme of dances are being arranged.

ALL SET FOR PRESS CLUB BALL TO-NIGHT

Few Remaining Tickets Are on Sale at Newspaper Offices

Wonderful music, brilliant decorations, a perfect programme, a first class supper—and surprises. The stage is set for the Press Club ball to-night at the Empress Hotel to launch the Press Club's Santa Claus fund for the little sufferers at the Solarium.

Everything points to it being one of the greatest parties the Press Club has ever sponsored.

The ball to-night will undoubtedly rival any of its predecessors in gaiety and the characteristic happy atmosphere. The decorations will have novelty, associated, of course, with the Guy Fawkes anniversary. Very special attention was given to the make-up of the dance programme, and Charlie Hunt's eight-pieces orchestra has rehearsed several completely new selections for the occasion, which are guaranteed to make a hit with all. Supper will be served in the dining-room from 11 o'clock to midnight, and on this the Empress management is expending special care.

To Sir Henry Thornton goes the honor of the first cash donation to the club's Santa Claus fund. The C.N.R. president found he was unable to accept the invitation to the function. Sir Henry yesterday sent an unsolicited cheque to Secretary V. Bendrodt. "The cause to which the funds raised by the ball are to be devoted has my sympathy, and I wish you every success in your endeavor," he wrote.

FIRST AID IN POISONING

It would seem that in the past there were far more cases of children being poisoned than there are to-day. Mothers have been warned so often of the necessity for keeping boxes of rat poison, roach powders and dangerous medicines out of the way of curious little fingers that the problem has to some extent been solved. But accidents still happen and unless one is schooled in the right antidote for various poisons, and how many persons are?—one feels helpless to cope with the emergency.

It is better always to remember the general principles of what one is trying to do; do that thing quickly, and leave more intricate dosing to persons competent to administer it.

Whatever kind of poison a child or adult gets a hold of should be gotten out of the stomach as quickly as possible, so that absorption into the circulation can be checked. Copious doses of warm water, with a little salt in it (if one can remember that) can be counted on to cause vomiting. If the child is too small to be made to drink water, or is too doped by the poison to be conscious, thrusting the finger down his throat will do the trick.

If the child is unconscious he should be revived and kept warm by vigorous rubbing of the extremities and the application of hot water bags. Any of the poisons which cause the victim to sleep can in a measure be overcome by keeping the victim awake forcibly. Commonsense comes to the fore in dealing with emergencies, for one can be sure that if he works to undo the result of the poison by keeping a person who is chilled warm, a sleepy person awake, a fainting person revived, that he is working with nature.

While the mother is doing all she can for the patient it is possible for some other member of the household or a neighbor to call the doctor.

A long list of antidotes for poisons could be given, but no one would remember them, while it is possible for anyone, even in the stress of excitement, to remember that a poisoned person should be made to vomit. Other measures than this hardly come under the guise of first aid, for it is hoped by the time one has done this much that expert aid will be at hand.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to the health or diet of babies and children. Address her care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope if a leaflet or personal answer is desired.

First United Ladies' Aid—A well attended and very interesting meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First United Church was held at the church on Wednesday afternoon, at which arrangements were made for a mass meeting of all the ladies of the church to be held on Wednesday, November 17, when Mrs. E. G. Farr, who is well versed on the subject, will give a talk on the question of the Province-wide campaign of Home Economics, inaugurated by the Parent-Teacher Federation. A great variety of articles, literally a shower for the coming bazaar, is expected from the church ladies. Afternoon tea and refreshments free will be served to all at the close of the meeting.

SIDNEY WEDDING IS PRETTY AFFAIR

Miss Elizabeth D.V. Matthews Married to John L. Dolenc

Sidney, Nov. 5.—A wedding of much interest to Sidney and district was solemnized on Wednesday at 2 o'clock at St. Andrew's Church, Sidney, when the Rev. T. M. Hughes united in marriage Elizabeth Daisy Violet, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews of Sidney, to Mr. John Lester Dolenc, of Hudson, Wyoming.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, entering the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by the organist, Mrs. J. Critchley. The bride looked very sweet in a simple gown of liberty satin embroidered in pearls, and conventional veil arranged in mob cap style, with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses. The church was prettily decorated by the bride's friends in Autumn flowers, leaves, clematis and foliage.

After the ceremony a well attended reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Bazan Avenue, the young couple receiving the felicitations of their many friends beneath a canopy of pink crepe paper prettily festooned with a large mirror at the back to emphasize the beautiful effect.

The bride's mother, who assisted in receiving, wore a black crepe satin dress with black velvet hat relieved with gold trimmings, and carried a bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums.

A dainty buffet lunch was served from the dining-room, which was decorated in gold chrysanthemums and fern, with a beautiful three-tier wedding cake in the centre of the table. Mrs. George Cochran and Mrs. Shade presided over the urns, and were assisted in serving by Miss Marlon and Helen Cochran.

Rev. T. M. Hughes proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded in a few well chosen words. The happy couple left on the boat for California, where the honeymoon will be spent, returning to Seattle, where they will reside in future. The bride traveled in a dress of navy blue silk velvet, with coat in rosewood shade, trimmed with fine collar and cuffs, and small hat to match.

The young couple received a large number of beautiful gifts, among which was a lovely silver tea service from the fellow employees of the groom. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Moore and Miss S. Moore, Oak Bay, Mrs. McDougall and daughter Lucy, Victoria; Mrs. Waddington, Victoria, and Mrs. Morrison, Vancouver.

Special armistice services will be held in the Anglican Churches next Sunday, to which returned soldiers are invited. The services are as follows: Holy Communion at 11 a.m., Holy Trinity, Patricia Bay; evening at 7 o'clock at St. Andrew's, Sidney. Armistice day, November 11, Holy Communion, St. Andrew's, at 10.30 a.m.

MINERS MAKING THEIR WAY UP THE SWIFT-FLOWING FRASER RIVER

IN the race for the new gold diggings many means of transportation were resorted to. The swift waters of the Fraser River bore a motley crew of fortune-hunters, whose goods and chattels were loaded aboard boats of many kinds; stern-wheel steamers, fishing craft, punts, wierd contrivances of no known style and rig, passed in motley procession, propelled by steam, poles, oars, or sails made of anything capable of catching the breeze—and the banks of the mighty stream were dotted with the tents of the resting argonauts.

Yet today the prospector turns to the aeroplane as his means of transportation; while the housewife, similarly freed from old-fashioned Bake Day, takes advantage of a modern 4X Bakery Service to save her time and work. Such are the gifts which modern advancement has given us.

FINE DISPLAY OF HAND-PAINTED CHINA

Exhibit of Mrs. Ethel F. Berrill at Crystal Garden Attracts Attention

One of the most interesting features of the annual exhibition of the Society of Arts and Crafts now being held at the Crystal Garden is the display of hand-painted china.

One large cabinet which contains the work of Ethel F. Berrill received very favorable comment. Several vases show originality in coloring and design, as well as technique of a very high order. The chief feature is a display of Rookwood china by the same artist, this being a distinctive style of naturalistic decoration in dark red tones, with touches of yellow, and was recently introduced here from the Eastern states, where for many generations the secret of this particular kind of colorings was a jealously guarded trade secret. Sample pieces of a complete coffee set are included in this display, as well as many other pieces of considerable interest. Miss Beattie exhibits a fine collection in the conventional decorated style, and the work of Miss Lothian and Mrs. Dodd add interest to other branches of the craft work.

The exhibition, which closes on Saturday evening, has been continued throughout this week in aid of the Solarium.

MINERAL OUTPUT OF YEAR TO SMASH ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Officials Preparing Preliminary Estimate of B.C. Mines' Production

Report on Province's Iron Ore Resources to be Completed Shortly

Officials of the Provincial Mines Department are preparing figures on which a preliminary estimate of British Columbia's mineral production for 1926 will be based and announced shortly. Unofficial investigators estimate the total output of the Province's mines for the year at $70,000,000, a figure smashing all previous records. The Mines Department has not completed its figures, and is not in a position to confirm or dispute the unofficial estimate yet.

BIG GROWTH SHOWN

In any case, it is certain that all previous records have been broken by the year's mineral output. The figure will reflect an amazing growth in the last three years.

Officials of the Mines Department are looking forward with interest to the publication of a report of the Geological Survey of Canada on the Province's iron ore resources. This will be based on lengthy investigations by experts of the survey during the last few years, and will be completed shortly.

SUGGESTS MEANS OF ISLAND DEVELOPMENT

J. H. Griffiths' Paper Read at Tourist Trade Group Meeting To-day

Recommending a system of strong co-operation between Victoria and Vancouver for the purpose of bringing to Vancouver Island more tourist business and an exchange of assistance in industrial affairs, J. H. Griffiths, in an exhaustively prepared paper read before a meeting of the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce to-day, pointed out the advantages to be derived from such a condition. In this paper it was further suggested that an automobile ferry system be inaugurated between Vancouver and Patricia Bay to make a final lap of the trans-Canada highway, and that Strathcona Park should be opened up and developed as a pleasure resort.

The paper secured the approval of the group. D. W. Campbell complimented Mr. Griffiths on the paper.

There were suggestions there, said Mr. Campbell, which might be acted upon and which would bring great advantages to Vancouver Island and Victoria.

The co-operative scheme between business men of the mainland city and the capital of the Province could not be too strongly mooted, he said. It was an idea well worth the consideration and serious discussion of the group, he declared.

Owing to the regular date of the next meeting of the Victoria West Brotherhood falling on Thanksgiving Day, November 8, the meeting has been postponed to the following Monday, November 15. On that occasion an address on the early history of Victoria West will be given by Beaumont Boggs.

Chan Gow and Homan were to-day fined $15 each in the city police court for selling fireworks to minors, under the age of sixteen. He would deal severely with offenders, he said. Both accused pleaded guilty. Hong, similarly charged, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until to-morrow.

Nearly 200,000 acres of homestead land have been taken up by new settlers in the Dominion land area covered by the Edmonton agency in the first nine months of the present year, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce is informed. The total filings, according to the publicity commissioner of Alberta, numbered 1,240, including soldiers' grants, as compared with 741 filings for the same period of the previous year.

In making preparations for the Thanksgiving dinner Victorians are asked to consider the starving children in Central Europe, who were nearly wiped out by the earthquake, and who would appreciate if, by the kindness of public donations, they could receive a plate of soup and a piece of bread, and water once a day. All donations will be thankfully received and acknowledged by Fred Landsberg, treasurer, 641 Fort Street.

One of the most popular attractions on Thanksgiving night next Monday will be the dance given by the Kingston Street Tennis Club at the K. of C. Hall, Government Street. Tickets for the event have been selling fast, and a big crowd is expected. Charlie Hunt's Victorians have been secured to provide snappy, up-to-date music. Novelties will be introduced during the evening, and refreshments will be served. Everything points to a good time.

The winners of the prizes at the masquerade dance held last Wednesday at the K. of P. hall by Lodge Pride of the Island, S.O.E., were: Best dressed lady, Mrs. W. White as Patience; best dressed gentleman, James White as Harlequin; best lady comic, Mrs. Jennie Boyd as Hucklebury Finn; best gentleman comic, Ben Bowman as Sally, the belle of Esquimalt; spotlight prize, Mr. Ferriday and partner. The speciality doll dance by little Miss Hudson was loudly encored, and the ghost tragedy perpetrated by Ernie Impett and Cobbett evoked loud applause. Jack Pullen's S.O.E. orchestra put pep into the dances, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

SOOKE PEOPLE URGE ROAD CONSTRUCTION TO HELP DISTRICT

Sutherland Hears of Plan to Connect East and West Sooke by New Road

Delegation Coming to Urge Minister to Improve Trunk Sooke Highway

Opening up of the Sooke district through the improvement of road facilities was urged by a delegation of Sooke residents who met Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Miniser of Public Works, to-day.

ASK NEW ROAD

Led by C. E. Whitney-Griffith, the delegation proposed the construction of a road from East Sooke to West Sooke, to tap the head of Sooke Harbor and give access to growing settlement in this district. The new road would be something under three miles in length and would form the main artery of travel from the city to West Sooke, the delegation stated.

MAIN ROAD IMPROVEMENT

These representations are preliminary to the arrival of another delegation which will ask Dr. Sutherland to order important improvements to the main Sooke Road so as to improve travel under the system used with marked success on the Island Highway or some other treatment which will provide the whole district with a main highway always in good shape.

CANDY DEALERS HEAVILY FINED BY MAGISTRATE

"deemed to be intoxicating." This definition differs very materially from that in the Government Liquor Act of B.C., which is as follows: "Liquor includes all fermented "spirits and malt liquors and all "combinations thereof, and all liquids "which are intoxicating and any "liquid which contains more than 1 "per cent. of alcohol by weight shall "be conclusively deemed to be in-"toxicating." In this definition the words "drinkable liquids," which are found in the Manitoba Act are not included, and I do not think, therefore, that the Manitoba case can be accepted as being applicable to the case now under consideration.

It is further contended by counsel for the defence that the chocolates exhibited in this case are a culinary preparation, coming within the provisions of sub-section 2 of section 60 of the Government Liquor Act.

The defendant, in giving evidence, described the manufacture of the chocolates, which are made by himself, and particularly the liquid contents, which he described as a syrup, and stated that this was made by boiling sugar to a certain consistency and flavored with a preparation manufactured by W. J. Smith & Co. of London, England, the preparation being described as concentrated rum flavor for flavoring confectionery, but admitted that to this was added an unmeasured quantity of rum purchased from the Government liquor vendors. Sub-section 2 of section 60 of the Government Liquor Act is intended for the protection of dealers in toilet or culinary preparations, and I cannot support the contention of the defence that the chocolates in this case, which are intended for consumption, can be considered to be a culinary preparation within the meaning of this sub-section, nor can I agree that it is a syrup as contended by the defence, but, on the other hand, it is, in my opinion, a liquid which comes within the definition of "liquor" under the act.

It is true that the quantity of liquid contained in each chocolate is very small, perhaps not more than could be contained in a small thimble, but the Government Liquor Act does not recognize any degree so far as quantity is concerned, and there must, therefore, be a conviction.

Accused is fined $300, payable forthwith, and in default of payment, is sentenced to three months' imprisonment, with hard labor.

REX VS. E. A. MORRIS COMPANY LIMITED

The defendant company is charged that on August 30, 1926, at the City of Victoria, they did unlawfully sell liquor, to wit, certain candies containing a liquid containing more than one per cent of alcohol by weight, contrary to the Government Liquor Act.

The sale of the candies in question is admitted. The police produced in evidence twenty boxes of chocolates taken from the premises of the defendant company, and the government analyst testified that he had analyzed certain chocolates produced and found the contents of the chocolate as a whole to contain 4.44 per cent of alcohol by weight. He had also analyzed the liquid contents in the chocolate and found it to contain twenty-two per cent of alcohol by weight.

The chocolates in this case are not of local manufacture but are manufactured in England and of a make known as "Old Chelsea spirit liqueur chocolates." One of the chocolates in evidence was opened in court and found to be a chocolate shell containing a small quantity of liquid, having the appearance of rum and smelling strongly of alcohol.

It was contended in this case that the chocolates in question are a culinary preparation within the meaning of Sub-section 2 of Section 60 of the Government Liquor Act, but I am unable to distinguish these chocolates from those in evidence in the Harris case, in which I have already given judgment, and for the reasons there given I do not think that they come within the exception provided by Sub-section 2 of Section 60. In my opinion they contain liquor within the meaning of the Government Liquor Act and there must be a conviction.

The defendant company is, therefore, convicted and fined $1,000., to be paid within one week and in default of payment distress.

VICTORIAN DIES FOLLOWING FATAL MINE ACCIDENT

Fatally Hurt at Burnett Mines, Newcastle, Wash., Walter McEachern Succumbs

Details of the tragic death, through accidental injuries, of Walter McEachern, twenty-one, former Victoria resident and son of A. E. McEachern, 766 Hill Street, Victoria, reached here to-day, following interment yesterday at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Seattle.

The late Walter McEachern was well known in Victoria athletic circles, having resided with his father here up until two years ago, when he moved to Newcastle, Wash., to enter employment with the Burnett Coal Mines outside Newcastle.

Death took place on November 2 at Providence Hospital, Seattle, following grave injuries sustained in an accident at the coal mine. He leaves to mourn his loss his father, Mr. A. E. McEachern of this city, Miss Violet McEachern, resident at home, and one brother Eldon McEachern of Newcastle, Wash.

CRYSTAL GARDEN IS WINTER PLAYGROUND FOR TOURISTS HERE

Chamber of Commerce Group Selects Pleasure Resort as Best Procurable

Discussing plans for the Winter entertainment of tourists here, the tourist trade group to-day heard a report from D. W. Campbell, chairman of the committee, listened to his suggestions, and finally selected the Crystal Garden as entertainment headquarters.

In the past, said Mr. Campbell, the programmes of entertainment for tourists had been a great success. The entertainments at the Chamber of Commerce had been smaller than those at the Crystal Garden. The bigger gatherings prevented a free mixing of tourists, said Mr. Campbell.

Harry Boorman said it was better to entertain a thousand at the Crystal Garden than a few score at the Chamber of Commerce.

C. P. Hill asserted that Victoria owed something to the Crystal Garden. Certainly, he said in support of Mr. Boorman, it was desirable to entertain as many people as possible, and give them a high class of entertainment.

P. B. Scurrah said that to his mind the Crystal Garden was the only reasonable place to hold such entertainments.

A. E. Humphries, chairman of the group, asked for a decision.

Ivan Awde, manager of the Crystal Garden, suggested various changes which might be made to help make these entertainments pleasing and successful.

Mr. Campbell finally moved that the entertainments be held at the Crystal Garden and a committee be appointed to look into plans for such. The motion was passed unanimously.

CITY OBTAINS FAVORABLE RATE FOR ROAD WORK

Considerable Permanent Roadwork Carried Out at Low Cost

Leakage on Flowline Cut to Bare 15 Per Cent From 38 Per Cent in 1922

Favorable buying, close estimates, and conservation have lengthened the value of the civic dollar this year in a considerable volume of permanent improvements undertaken by the city, it is shown in a survey made today of the work done by the city engineer's department, under Frank M. Preston, engineer and water commissioner.

BELOW ESTIMATE

New low prices on steel pipe at the first of the year, excellent sand and gravel contracts, and a number of other factors have made possible a greater volume of work than was thought possible when the estimates were prepared.

Due to the low cost of materials and to the fact that permanent bases of the roads resurfaced were found to be in excellent shape the cost of replacing wooden blocks, one of the major items of the year's work, was done at an average charge of $1.50 a square yard, instead of the $2.90 a yard estimated.

PERMANENT PAVING

The permanent paving of streets in the downtown business area where wooden blocks were removed was carried out at a cost of $25,000. This reduced to $100,000 the replacement cost of the wooden block surfaces left to be taken up. The city is accomplishing the work gradually, and in a few years the last of the old-time paving will have been removed. This year excellent progress was made in which Belleville, Government, Douglas, Fort and other important arteries were resurfaced at a cost little over half that originally anticipated.

MACADAM SURFACES

In residential districts a total of nineteen streets were treated, new macadam surfaces being laid in a definite programme of permanent construction. The work cost $15,000, or considerable less than anticipated. Concrete sidewalks were laid on twelve streets, in sections and under the new plan whereby owners front on the thoroughfare bear part of the immediate cost of construction.

The sum of $10,000 was expended in the continuation of the drainage in the Fairfield area, known as the Pemberton drain. This is a big reinforced concrete drain which serves a very large area in rear of Foul Bay Road. The work was commenced in 1925 after serious complaints had been registered as to swampy conditions due to lack of proper drainage. The new drain has been found to be a success and the work carried out there this year will bring better conditions to a very large area.

HILLSIDE WATER MAIN

Continuing the laying of the Hillside water main, a twenty-four-inch duct which plays an important part in the city's water system, the city found many advantages in the favorable price of steel pipe ordered at the first of the year. A section of 1,500 feet of the water main will be completed this year, leaving 1,400 to be completed in 1927, when the major portion of the work will have been accomplished. The cost of this year's work at the site was $14,000, though more was accomplished for this sum than was anticipated, owing to the low rate on steel pipe secured. Piping used in the work has risen again on the market now, so that the city took advantage of a situation that reacted to its favor at the first of the year.

In the maintenance of the waterworks system generally $3,000 was expended on the flowline from Sooke, reducing the leak from 38% in 1922 to just under 15% at this date. Banding at the joints of the huge 42-inch concrete flowline has been responsible for the conservation of a large volume of water that formerly ran to waste.

HIGH RETURN

While the work for the year is not yet complete, and several projects of considerable importance to the areas affected are still under way, the operation of the city engineer's department this year has shown a consistently high return for the money expended. Throughout the city public works, roads, bridges and trails have been well maintained, while no new heavy expenditures are indicated at the present.

GUY FAWKES PAGEANT HELD THIS EVENING

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Club of the Victoria City Temple, the West End Players, assisted by some of the best local talent, will stage a dramatization of Guy Fawkes this evening in the K. of P. Hall, North Park Street.

A sketch entitled "King Arthur and the Witch," specially written by Howard L. Stevenson will also be put on. Artists attired in Sixteenth Century costume will be one of the features of the programme, which promises to be one of the most interesting and unique entertainments put on in this city. Historical characters of the period will appear in tableaux vivants. The town crier will be in charge of ceremonies.

The pageant will be depicted in song and story, introducing some of the most popular songs of the period.

Refreshments will also be served at the conclusion of the programme. Tickets may be secured at the doors, between 7.30 and 8 o'clock

Bleeding and battered about the head, Lou Sing, a Chinaman, came to police headquarters last night telling of two white men who assaulted and beat him over the head with an iron bar at the corner of Government and Chatham Streets. The Oriental did not know the names of the men and his only description of them was that they were tall men and wore caps. Dr. Walter Bapty was summoned to mend the Chinaman's wounds.

North Shore Coming For Feature Soccer Game With Victoria

Pacific Coast Match Heads Offer Big Card of Football Here To-morrow

First Division Clubs Start Off in New Series; Four Junior Matches

North Shore, one of the strongest Mainland teams in the Pacific Coast Football League, will be here to-morrow afternoon to oppose the Victoria City eleven. The match will be played at the Royal Athletic Park and the kick-off will be at 2.45 o'clock.

This will be the third time that the city team has performed before local fans this year. They have split even on the games played here so far, having succumbed to St. Saviour's of Vancouver, and taking the points at St. Andrew's expense. Away from home they have not been so successful, Ladysmith having beaten them; while they managed a draw with Varsity of Vancouver. They need to-morrow's game badly if they hope to get anywhere in the standing.

North Shore, their opponents to-morrow, have a fine record and are crowding the leaders in the P.C.F.L. standing. According to advance reports they will send a strong contingent over to battle the local squad.

The Victoria team will line up as follows: Leeming; Tuckwell and Glancy; Whyte, Webber and Howe; Phillip, Cummings, W. Smith, T. Smith, Cameron, Eshley and Sinkinson.

A FULL CARD

This will be the feature game of a full card of soccer games to-morrow. No less than seven games are scheduled. They will be as follows:

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE
First Division

Victoria vs. North Shore United at Royal Athletic Park.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE
Second Division

Esquimalt vs. Victoria Wests at Beacon Hill Park; referee, Saunders.

Saanich Thistles vs. James Island at James Island; referee, Oliver.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

Five C's vs. Esquimalt United at Central Park; referee, A. Swan.

Y.M.C.A. vs. Saanich Rovers at Beacon Hill; referee, Armstrong.

JUVENILE LEAGUE

James Bay vs. Three C's at Heywood Avenue; referee, Verrall.

Willows Rangers vs. Saanich Thistles at Oak Bay Park; referee, Griffiths.

The four local first division teams will play their first games in the P.C.F.L. second division. According to the schedule, they will play each other twice, and the team having the highest number of points at the end of the series will represent Victoria in a play-off with the Upper Island champs, the winner of that game meeting the mainland top-dogs for the second division title.

The Saanich Thistles will have the honor of being the first guests of James Island on their new field. The grounds at the Island have been completely made over, and are in fine condition. James Island will now be able to play their home games on its own grounds after this instead of coming to town every week. The game at the Island will no doubt draw a large attendance.

MADE A NEW START

After their bad setback last week the Thistles will try to make a new start in the P.C.E.L. They will need a strong team and intend to make the Islanders hop lively. A new face will be seen in their goal this week, namely, Hogan, a tall, lean youth who can reach for the high ones. Harper, the former goalie, will be at full back.

James Island need no advance notice. Their work during the past three weeks speaks well enough for them. They have defeated all three clubs in the local league during that time, and see no reason why they can not keep them on winning.

The teams will be:

Saanich Thistles—Hogan, Harper, Kennedy, Price, Millar, Crowe, Cameron, Campbell, Minnis, Kelman, Sneddon, Thomas and Gandy.

James Island—Rodgers; Carter and F. Aldous; G. Preston, R. Preston and Bowman; G. Aldous, A. Inglis, T. Southern, Savill and Bissell. Reserves—F. Barrie, T. Robb and E. Rivers.

At Beacon Hill, Esquimalt and the Wests will engage for the third time this season. In both previous encounters the Wests have taken the short end of the count, but have been training hard to get into shape for this game. They are at the bottom of the Victoria league with only two points to their credit, but will put up a stubborn defence to the Esquimalt forwards to-morrow. The latter have hit their stride to perfection lately, and are traveling at a fast rate. They have already given a good account of themselves in the local first division, and will be out to repeat in the Pacific Coast League.

The Wests will line up as follows: Whyte; Dunn and Watson; Passmore, Peden and Harwood; Connorton, Mulcahy, Wright, Quainton, McDonald and Sherratt.

The Five C's-Esquimalt junior game is expected to be a close one. Although the Five C's are yet unfeated, the Esquimalt eleven have added a number of crack players during the week and will try to interrupt the winning streak of the C's.

The junior affair at Beacon Hill should also be interesting. The Y.M.C.A. have shown great form lately, and the Rovers are considerably strengthened for the games. Teams:

James Bay—A. Browne, Killick, Whitehouse, Naysmith, Margison, Fraser, A. Taylor, L. Taylor, J. Allen, Davey, Lorfimer, Sheret and R. Brown.

Saanich Rovers—Reid, Pearce, W. Campbell, A. Stevens, Price, Potter, V. Smith, H. Smith, F. Tooby, Mason, Paddock, Scott, MacLeod, H. Tooby, Shaw, Hale, White and Walters.

Five C's—Jelliman, J. Taylor, H. Brynjolfson, Carlton, E. Viggers (capt.), Vickers, C. Sutton, S. Essler, C. Collins, F. Groves and F. Viggers. Reserves, J. Woods.

Esquimalt United — Banks; Nicol, and Sweeney; Edwards, Cochrane and Watson; Woolcock, Thompson, Burnett, Pepin and Wililams. Reserves, Stewart, Chandler and Chalmers.

FOURNIER'S NAME LINKED UP WITH BOSTON RED SOX

New York, Nov. 5—The baseball gossips have chosen still another manager for the Boston Red Sox. This time it is Jacques Fournier, the demon French-Canadian slugger, who was unconditionally released by Brooklyn yesterday at his own request "because he had a wonderful opportunity to manage a team next season."

The rumor is unverified.

Senior Ruggers To Make Their Bow To Public To-morrow

Navy and Pirates Meet in Opening Game in Senior League; English Code

Three Intermediate Games Scheduled With College's Leadership Threatened

Another Winter sport will make its bow to the public to-morrow afternoon when the Navy and Pirates meet at the Willows Oval in the opening game of the Senior Rugby League. The teams will commence the series which is held each year to determine the possessor of the Barnard Cup. For the past seven years it has been won by the J.B.A.A.

The Senior League this year will be made up of three clubs, the J.B.A.A. making the third club. The schedule will be operated in two halves and the winner of the first half will play the winner of the second half for the title.

SOME STARS TIED UP

Until the Canadian rugby season closes some of the star players will not be available for the teams which are playing under the English code. The Canadian ruggers have a match next Saturday with the University of Alberta, and, if they win, will proceed to Winnipeg to play for the Western title, which will keep them tied up for nearly a month.

Both the Pirates and Navy expect to have good teams in the field for to-morrow's game, which will start at 3 o'clock.

Victoria College, leaders in the Intermediate Rugby League, look into the eyes of the Pirates to-morrow afternoon at the High School grounds. This will be the feature struggle of the three-game card. The Pirates were formerly the ex-Victoria High School, but have changed their name for purposes best known to themselves.

BEARING ON LEADERSHIP

Two other games are to be played and will have considerable bearing on the league standing. The College have yet to taste defeat, but other clubs are treading pretty close on their heels and will force them to keep on winning if they wish to hold the league.

Other games to be played to-morrow will be as follows:

Normal School vs. Brentwood at Cranmore Road.

University School vs. Wanderers at Mt. Tolmie.

The Pirates will line up as follows:

Killick, Hesslein, Peden, May, Lambert, Lewis, Frizell, Hunter, Hall, Willoughby, Horne, Frizell, Hunnings, McConnell, Curtis, Smith and Walls.

Foley's Arm Kept Him From Stepping Out Against Roy

Calgary, Nov. 5.—Because of an injury to his right arm, sustained while training for his bout with Leo (Kid) Roy at Montreal, Vic Foley, Vancouver featherweight, will be unable to fulfill his engagement against Young Cowie, Prince Albert champion, here, November 10. Upon arrival here yesterday Foley was examined by a physician, and it was found that a tendon of the right arm had been badly wrenched. Jack Allen, Foley's manager, says the injury happened prior to Foley's first fight with Roy and that it was necessary to have the arm frozen for the second bout.

"At that, Foley was frightened to put any force behind his blows, and Roy had him at a disadvantage," says Allen.

Canadian Rugby In Province To Stay Declares President

"Big Three" League Head Thinks Games Will Some Day Draw Immense Crowds

Going Out to Make Victoria-Alberta Game Outstanding Success in Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 5—Having satisfied themselves and several hundred devotees, that Canadian rugby is in Vancouver to stay, officials of the B.C. Union are concentrating on a drive to put the game over in a bigger and better way on November 13 when Victoria and University of Alberta, respective provincial champions, meet at Athletic Park in the playoff for the right to go further east in search of the Dominion championship.

For years Canadian rugby has flourished in Eastern Canada. It has entrenched itself strongly on the prairies, too, and British Columbia, until very recently, merely toyed with the game on the outside fringe of organized playing territory.

It wasn't an easy thing to undertake to perfect a "Big Three" organization, Vancouver, Varsity and Victoria. Money makes the sportive mare go, even in amateur circles. But the Union officials went through with their schedule and, inspired thus to further efforts, informed the Western Canada Union headquarters at Winnipeg that Vancouver was ready to guarantee the expenses of the Alberta champions westward.

DEFINITELY ON MAP

Having thus burned their bridges it was up to them to "sell" the idea to Vancouver's sporting public. A campaign to this end is already under way and will be formally launched to-night at Spaldings when President Jack Bentham will lay the proposition before as many of the local enthusiasts of the code as he can surround, appoint committees, lay down perfected plans and open an intensive effort to secure as much of the guarantee as may be, within the next few days.

"It is true that we have encountered difficulties," Mr. Bentham said yesterday, "but it is equally true that we refuse to be down-hearted about it. What we aim to accomplish is the linking of the coast with the East in rugby.

OUTSIDE COMPETITION

"After all, B.C. is an integral part of Canada and it is our own Canadian game that we are fostering. Vancouver, we feel, needs outside competition in sport in every possible line.

"We have no desire to tread on any corns. We think we are doing constructive work. We want to put Canadian rugby as largely on the Western map as it is in the East. We wish to compete directly with the other provinces in rugby and the Canadian variety appears to be our only avenue.

"If the game is sufficiently thrilling to draw 10,000 and 20,000 people to the inter-collegiate games in Ontario and Quebec, why can't Vancouver achieve similar results in the near future?

"Victoria came through this season with flying colors. Sometimes looked upon as taking their sport in a half-hearted way, the boys over there built up a twelve that beat the best we could produce in the city and at Point Grey.

ASKS FOR SUPPORT

"Now they are headed for the Dominion championship. True, they may not get past Alberta. That makes no real difference. We will, by playing the game here, have established ourselves definitely on the Canadian rugby map. We may lose money. We hope to clear expenses. We can do that if the good people of Vancouver will give us a fair measure of support."

The Edmonton collegiate squad are all set to leave and will be in the city fairly early next week in order to do some limbering up before the afternoon of the struggle.

Brentwood Cleans Up Four Games On Invasion Of City

Four of Five Teams Win Rugby Games, Including Moncrieff Trophy Battle

When Brentwood College ruggers invaded Victoria yesterday, to meet University School in three battles on the Rugby field at Mount Tolmie, they succeeded in winning all but one, while two other teams from the same school chased the Oak Bay High School and Monterey School boys around the field at Cranmore Road and Oak Bay Athletic Park respectively.

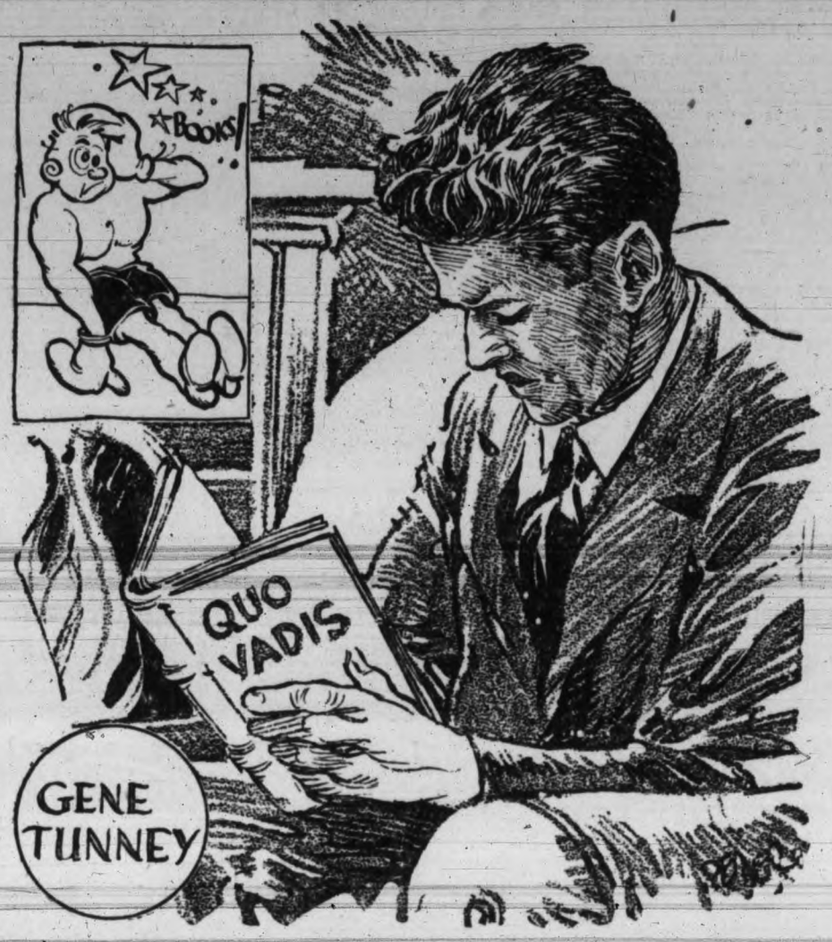
In the senior fixture in the Scott-Moncrieff Shield series, the college men made holes in the University School's defences, and piled up an overwhelming score, 20-0. The second team, battling for the Hodgin's Cup, won their encounter, 16-3.

In both games Brentwood were heavier and faster than their opponents, and showed rare ability and combination on the field. The University's first fifteen, usually so active and smooth-running, was helpless before it. The back line was flattened out and the forwards were outclassed.

In the third game, where the Midgets clashed, the University took a victory. Here there was plenty of swift action, a hard pace being maintained all the way. The score was 6-3.

Brentwood gathered up the Oak Bay High School in its plunder bag and stalked away with a victory from the Monterey School boys. Oak Bay fell before their third team's onslaught by a 17-0 score, and Monterey collapsed against the Brentwood fourth team and allowed them to score twenty-five points against them, while they themselves failed to register a try.

FIGHT CHAMP'S GUIDE TO LITERATURE



By LEE TRENHOLM

New York, Nov. 5.—We have with us this evening, ladeez and gentlemen, Battling Tunney's list of the heavyweight champeens of world literature!

The sturdy young bruiser who battled it out with Jack Dempsey, just as confidently agreed to enter the intellectual arena as defender of titles, most of which already are classic.

For Dr. Eliot's "five-foot shelf" and Gene Tunney's six-foot self are back in the clinch, broken only temporarily when the gong called him out of his study.

Had you wandered into his rest camp" a few days after his wallops had gone down in sporting history, you would have found him poring over Marcus Aurelius's "Meditations."

"It was the only book I took with me," he explained when I asked him to compile a Tunney-list-of-what-to-read. What better time for meditation, Tunney inquired, than on the morning after victory—since victory is so ephmeral a thing! They "all flop sooner or later," and one might as well achieve a philosophic attitude.

In this fashion Tunney is, after all, doing little more than carrying on the traditions of the golden age of Greece when the hero of the games won no higher laurel than the bard who sang.

All this becomes incongruous in a modern day when a bruiser is a "pug" and a poet is a "nut."

Shades of John L.! A book would have ruined any fighter's self-respect.

But, since small boys are given to hero worship, what may be the influence of a gent that packs a wicked wallop in one hand and a copy of Aurelius in the other?

I talked of such things with Tunney and asked him, as the dual exponent of left hook and right book, to name a list of volumes for the young men who are ambitious to be anything from a world's champ to a pinch hitter.

LIKES "GLADIATORIAL CONTESTS"

"'Quo Vadis,' first," said Gene. "Why? Because it contains so much historical information on the difficulties the Christian church encountered establishing itself.

"Then 'The Last Days of Pompeii.' In it are so many unforgettable word pictures of the Coliseum and the gladiatorial contests. Also, many side lights on the church. Church history I like.

"Shakespeare's complete works would be absolutely essential," Gene went on.

"Hugo's 'Les Miserables' I'd have, too. Then there's a book entitled 'My Unknown Chum.' Its author also is unknown. I read it a long time ago. It's one which has created considerable discussion among the Roman clergy because, the work of a Protestant, it was decidedly pro-Catholic.

"It's narrative was of a year's trip to Europe from America. It told of the author's visiting many places of historical importance, living as comfortably and luxuriously as was his wont and returning to the United States with $10 remaining of the $400 with which he had set out.

"Another I'd recommend is Samuel Butler's 'The Way of All Flesh. Although it starts out a novel the story is nil and negligible. But the delightful manner in which he advances his ideas and philosophies is too amusing and most courageous.

"Of course, if verse were wanted I'd choose Shelley, Keats and Tennyson, especially Shelley."

APPRECIATES POETRY

Speaking of poetry, Tunney was interrupted here by one of his retinue—corresponding to a sparring partner in the average fighter's hang-out—who called his attention to a line in a book of verse he was reading.

"Beautiful," agreed the champ, banging his knee with a big clenched fist.

Tunney's taste ranges from poetry to history. He is one of the figurative half-dozen moderns who have read that neglected monument, Gibbon's 'Decline and Fall of Rome.' He doesn't urge it on the general public. But, getting back to the Winter's reading:

"Another book everyone should read is 'The Church at the Turning Points of History' by a man named Knauth. And because of my pugilistic viewpoint, I like particularly Shaw's prize ring story of 'Cashel Byron's Profession.' We could go on forever naming books, though. There are thousands that challenge attention."

Tunney's books recommended for Winter reading are:

"Quo Vadis"—Sienkiewicz.

"The Last Days of Pompeii"—Bulwer-Lytton.

"Meditations"—Marcus Aurelius.

"The Outline of History"—H. G. Wells.

"The Story of Mankind"—Hendrick Willem Van Loon.

"Cashel Byron's Profession"—Geo. Bernard Shaw.

"Les Miserables"—Hugo.

"My Unknown Chum"—Anonymous.

"The Way of All Flesh"—Samuel Butler.

"The Church at the Turning Points of History"—Christian Knauth.

"Franklin's Autobiography."

"Shakespeare" (complete).

USING DRIVER THROUGH GREEN

By JOYCE WETHERED

Whether the golfer is a natural long player or not, the mental attitude he should adopt in attempting to play his driver through the green will be identical in every case. There are, however, certain precautions that need to be taken.

Stand a shade more behind the ball than is customary with the driver off the tee and take up the line to the hole with exceeding care by means of the stance. Swing more easily than was your wont, and feel that your left arm is guiding the club on its way down and that, at the psychological moment but not before, the right arm, with all its straightness and cautious strength, is guiding the club through to an effortless finish.

Imagine that the ball lies at that place in the curve of the swing which is the lowest point of its arc. Sweep the ball away and avoid any movement that is in the nature of a dig or an uncertain snatch.

Finally, do not try to elevate the ball, since every driver has a shade of loft, however unapparent it may seem; and, on the other hand, make no attempt to drive the ball in a downward direction.

If everything goes well, the result will be the shot of your dreams.

Pembroke Hockey Players Pushing Off For Big Jobs

Ontario Town Will Contribute Number of Players to Professional Leagues

Pembroke, Ont., Nov. 5.—During the last week big league hockey players, who live in this town, have started to report to their respective teams. Frank Nighbor has returned to Ottawa. Harry Cameron has headed for Saskatoon, Lolus Berlinquette goes to the Quebec team and Gordon Fraser has left for Detroit, and will go later to Chicago. Hughie Lehman is in Chicago. "Tiger of Pyrenees" Scares Firpo; Coming To Meet U.S. Boxers

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 5.—Paolino Uzcudun, European heavyweight champion, sailed for New York today after vainly trying for two months to obtain a match here against Luis Firpo. The "Tiger of the Pyrenees" said he had no definite plans with regard to his American invasion, during which he will box under the direction of Jack Curley. Firpo, asserting that he required several months' training, refused to meet any boxer before March.

Leaders Will Play Weak Sisters With No Upsets Expected

Games in First Division of English Football Arouse Little Comment

London, Nov. 5.—The engagements scheduled for Saturday in the First Division of the English Football Association are not of a sort to arouse any undue comment, inasmuch as the leaders are, for the most part, down to play combinations which, in the nature of things, they should have little difficulty in overwhelming.

That Burnley will do better against Bury than they did a week ago against West Bromwich is one of the things for which their supporters are hoping. The four to two defeat suffered in the Midlands last Saturday was a hard one for Burnley fans to swallow, signalizing, as it did, the tumbling of the League leaders by the tail-enders.

Leicester City and Derby County will play at Derby. The home team have won every game except one on their own ground, and they have lost every game away from home. Leicester City, on the other hand, have secured full points only once in games away, all the others having been either drawn or lost.

CHANCE FOR NEWCASTLE

Newcastle United, who were displaced from second position in the League by Sunderland a week ago, will have an opportunity of regaining some lost ground to-morrow when they entertain West Bromwich on Tyneside.

Sunderland, whose status is due to the fact that they have played the largest number of games in the League, travel to Leeds to take on the United, whose play recently has been poor.

Other encounters are:

Blackburn at Arsenal.
Tottenham at Aston Villa.
West Ham at Bolton.
Birmingham at Cardiff.
Huddersfield at Liverpool.
Wednesday at Manchester United.
Everton at Sheffield.

Smythe's Application For Amateur Card is Turned Down Flatly

Toronto, Nov. 5.—At an executive meeting of the Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada held here, the application of Conny Smythe, former University of Toronto hockey coach, for reinstatement in the amateur ranks, was refused. The committee pointed out that as Smythe accepted a reported sum of $7,500 for building up the New York Rangers teams of the N.H.L., he automatically became a professional, and is not entitled to amateur status. He has intimated he will place his case before the Dominion body, when it convenes for the annual meeting of St. John, N.B., early in December.

One Player Often Can Make Ball Club A Pennant Winner

Addition of Star Diamond Performer Sometimes Give Team Proper Balance

Grover Alexander Gave Cards the Punch They Needed; Made Them Champions

By BILLY EVANS

The addition of one star very often gives a ball club the proper pennant balance. Grover Cleveland Alexander did that very thing for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Alexander not only made the Cardinals a National League pennant winner but world champions as well.

The great Alex supplied the Cards with a pitching punch that had been lacking. It was the very thing needed to round out a good club into a championship aggregation.

Ball players are funny, yet in a sense, only human. Anytime a manager releases some veteran, who feels he is still a big leaguer, said manager incurs the wrath of that person for life.

MADE THE CARDINALS

Manager McCarthy of the Chicago Cubs, in his first year as a big league manager, turned Alexander loose for the waiver price. Aside from the release, he added a few uncomplimentary words to boot.

It seems for various reasons Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Nationals was the only manager to take issue with McCarthy's statement that Alex was through.

Alexander immediately proceeded to justify Hornsby's opinion. His remarkable work in the world series is too fresh in the minds of everyone to need even the slightest comment.

It so happened that in the Fall city series between the two Chicago clubs, Eddie Collins bested Joe McCarthy. That must have pleased Alexander.

At the close of the series, when one of the scribes asked Alexander what was the first thing he intended to do, he laughingly answered:

"I intend to wire my congratulations to Joe McCarthy on the outcome of the Chicago series, also tender him a vote of thanks for releasing me."

THE DIFFERENCE

With many changes in the managerships of the various major league clubs, several umpires are being prominently mentioned as possible pilots.

Hank O'Day is one of the few major league umpires who has also tried his hand at managing. Some years ago he was at the head of the Cincinnati Reds but he gave it up to go back to arbitrating.

Recently someone asked O'Day how he compared the two jobs.

"The umpire worries two hours every day; the manager twenty-four," was his sizeup of the situation.

OPTIMISTIC CUSS

Al Schacht, well-known baseball comedian, spent last Winter as a realtor in Florida. He invested most of his earnings in three lots on Miami Beach, which for several days was under water as a result of the recent hurricane.

The day after the storm, someone asked Al if he had suffered much of a loss as a result of the storm and in his usual optimistic manner, he replied:

"I should say not. That storm was a good break; all the beach lots now have ocean frontage."

FARMERS TO FIGHT STEEL DUTY RISE; OPPOSE CADET WORK

Long Term Loans no Solution of Ills, Council of Agriculture Declares

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—The Long Term Farm Loans Bill passed by the House of Commons and amended by the Senate at the last session of Parliament, but which failed to become law owing to its not having received royal assent, was described as in no sense a solution of the problem and, therefore, unacceptable to the Canadian Council of Agriculture at a meeting of representatives of the council, held here to-day.

Recommendations along the lines of those proposed by the council prior to the introduction of the bill in the House of Commons were unanimously adopted. The council also decided to send a representative to Ottawa to appear before the tariff commission for the purpose of opposing the application of the steel companies for increases in the tariff.

Reaffirming the stand originally taken regarding the long term loans scheme, the council passed a resolution urging that the following proposals should be embodied in the bill when it comes before Parliament for reconsideration:

1. That the funds to be loaned should be raised by sale of bonds secured by first mortagages on the lands of all the borrowers within any province electing to avail itself of the scheme, the bonds to be guaranteed by the Dominion Government, and each provinial government to guarantee repayment to the Dominion of all funds employed within the province.

2. Each province coming into the scheme to establish a farm loans board to make loans to individual farmers within that province in such manner as to secure freedom from political influence and to make the system completely self-supporting.

3. That the rate of interest on loans should not exceed one per cent. more than that paid on the bonds sold, and in addition all the loan to be amortized over a period of not less than thirty years, with permission to repay in whole or in part at any time after three years without notice or bonus. In this connection it was pointed out that under the Manitoba scheme the administration of the costs were only about one-half of one per cent., and had never in any one year been as large as one per cent., the council thus concluding that it was on safe ground in asking for this provision. Approval was given the provision that the bonds should not be exempt from taxation.

WANT FREER TRADE

In deciding to send a representative to oppose the application of the steel companies for increases in the tariff, it was stated that the council had already sent a statement to the tariff commission against tariff increases, and in favor of tariff reductions. In this connection the council took the ground that while it is important to thresh things out before the tariff commission, after all, the decision as to what the tariff should be rests with Parliament and not with the tariff commission itself, and that public opinion ought to determine the tariff policy of the country. It was decided to arry on some propaganda in the country through the farmers' organizations in opposition to the protective system and in favor of lower tariffs and freer trade.

WOMEN SEEK OWN DOMICILE

Mrs. R. B. Gunn, president of the women's section, reported that the section was going to seek the co-operation of provincial associations in an endeavor to secure the passage of legislation to enable a married woman who has been deserted by her husband to establish a legal domicile of her own, for the purpose of a divorce action. The women's section, it also was reported, will take the initiative in getting physical training substituted for cadet or military training in the schools.

WORKING HARD FOR POPPY BALL SUCCESS

Veterans Will Stage Usual Colorful Function at the Empress Hotel

The various committees in charge of arrangements for the Poppy Ball are working hard to have everything run with smoothness which the public has become used to looking for in connection with matters staged by ex-service men.

The ticket committee under Comrade King of the Naval Veterans' Post reported that there was a little activity in inquiries for tickets since the end of the month, and it appeared a large number of people intended taking parties as blocks of twelve tickets have been sold.

The reception committee, under Comrade Twigg, Canadian Legion branch, is arranging for His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to be "played in" by Pipers this year. There will be the usual large representation of officers from the naval and military forces.

Hon. Walter Nichol has signified his intention of being present, according to his usual custom. The service clubs will also be well to the fore.

The finance committee, under Comrade Bloomfield, Britannia Post, is keeping a watchful eye on expenditures in order that the balance is well on the right side after the function is over.

Comrade Sparks, Canadian Legion, chairman of the floor committee, goes one better in his promises than most conveners. He promises not only up-to-the-minute dances but the dances of to-morrow.

Deficit on Year In Ontario Accounts

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Hon. J. Monteith, Provincial Treasurer of Ontario, following a preliminary survey of the conditions of the public accounts since the close of the Province's fiscal year on October 30 last, stated today that substantial improvement had been achieved in the provincial finances. The deficit, he declared, would be some hundreds of thousands of dollars less than the $1,500,000 forecast in the last budget.

Hon. W. H. Price, former Provincial Treasurer, had estimated the receipts would be $49,300,000 and expenditures $50,800,000 and the progress of the year had shown the forecast was substantially correct.

QUARRELS PRECEDED MURDER AND SUICIDE

Much Discussion in London of Deaths of Roscoe Brunner and Wife

London, Nov. 5.—Pending the coroner's inquest next Monday, there has been no official statement forthcoming from the police respecting the circumstances under which Roscoe Brunner, former chairman of Brunner, Mond & Company, and Mrs. Brunner were killed Wednesday night in the small cottage of their daughter, Princess Ferdinand of Leichenstein, at Roehampton.

Unofficial talk by house servants at the cottage and discussion of the double killing by the newspapers have led to the assumption Brunner shot his wife and then committed suicide. When the bodies were found, a revolver was in one hand of the body of Brunner.

Brunner, it is said, had been in ill-health for some time, and he worried over business matters and financial losses, although the latter were not important enough to bring him near poverty.

DISAGREEMENTS

In some quarters it is remarked the former happy relations of Brunner with his wife had been severed and that disagreements between them were frequent. These, according to The London Daily Mail, related to what the husband regarded as the wife's extravagance in dress and amusements and to the wife's resentment of the alleged secrecy concerning his commercial transactions.

When Brunner resigned in June from the firm of Brunner, Mond & Company, which recently became a member of one of the largest industrial combines ever formed in Great Britain, with a capital in the neighborhood of $250,000,000, Mrs. Brunner is said to have felt she was disgraced.

HAD QUARREL

It is asserted Mrs. Brunner several days ago visited certain business offices and expressed her feelings freely upon the firm's affairs and her husband's retirement from it.

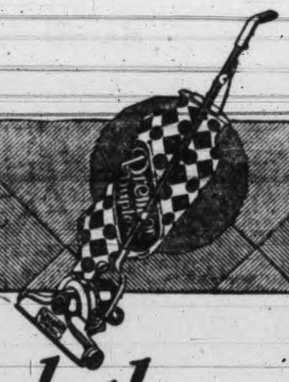
Brunner learned of this and was greatly annoyed. Returning home Wednesday evening, he complained angrily and a violent quarrel ensued.

The position in which the bodies were found is said to suggest the husband had gripped the wife by the body and shot her with a small revolver and then turned the weapon upon himself. The body of Brunner lay across that of the wife. The left arm was around the right shoulder of the body of the woman, the hand gripping the revolver. The shot which killed Mrs. Brunner severed a rope of pearls she was wearing and scattered them over the floor.

Telegraphing from Vevri, Switzerland, a correspondent of The London Daily Mail says Mr. and Mrs. Brunner were greatly interested in the treatment of Dr. Henry Spahlinger, the noted Swiss biologist, for tuberculosis. They had collected a large sum to enable Dr. Spahlinger to pay off the mortgage on his property in Geneva and help him continue his research work.

Spahlinger is said to be prostrated over the tragedy.

A Civil War type of locomotive, plunging through a burning trestle, recently cost a movie producer $40,000.



Check these points when you buy your cleaner

Has it the two essential cleaning actions?
Does it do its work quickly?
Is it light and easy to use?
Is it self-oiling?
Will it clean efficiently for a lifetime?

If you can answer these five questions YES . . . then buy it!

A CLEANER to be thorough must have two cleaning actions. It takes trong suction plus a motor-driven brush to get all the dirt. The brush to loosen the grit and pick up the litter. The strong suction to bag it all. The Premier Duplex has both actions. It gets all the dirt!

When these two actions perform at the same moment, you clean quickly. This quick method is known as double action cleaning. The Premier Duplex alone works with double action.

A cleaner should glide lightly, without any effort. And anyone, even a child, should be able to use it. The Premier Duplex is the shining example of the light and easy-to-use cleaner.

The cleaner that requires oiling has fluctuating efficiency. The cleaner that is always correctly oiled is steadily thorough. In the Premier Duplex both motor and brush are ball bearing packed in lubricant. They need no oiling.

Lifetime use is a mark of quality. The sturdy build and the protective ball bearing equipment of the Premier Duplex fortify it for long years of day-after-day thorough cleaning.

[See a demonstration today. Come in or phone for one in your home. Check up on these five points. Prove them to yourself—then buy.]

CHANGE TRAIN SCHEDULE

Morning Train Will Arrive Earlier While Evening Will Leave at 4.55 o'Clock

In order to give Up-Island residents an opportunity to stay longer in Victoria during a day's visit the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway will introduce a new train schedule on November 20.

It is planned to advance the departing time of the morning train from Wellington so that it will reach here at 10.50 o'clock instead of noon.

The afternoon train, which now leaves Victoria at 3 o'clock will be held over until 4.55 o'clock.

By this plan people coming to Victoria on the morning train will be able to spend six hours in the city, instead of the usual three.

It has been decided to restore the daily trains in and out of Port Alberni from Parksville except on Sundays. For some months an alternate day service has been given. This change will also become effective November 20.

FIRE WRECKS BOAT ON PORTLAND ISLAND

Catching fire presumably through engine trouble the gasboat W. Hind, owned by New Westminster interests, burned up on Portland Island yesterday morning about 11 o'clock and today is a total loss.

According to information received in the city this morning it is understood the vessel, which is thought to be a seine fishing craft, was beached on the island and abandoned by her crew.

This afternoon H. A. Barnett, Victoria marine surveyor, left for the scene of the disaster, to make an inspection of the vessel, following which it will be decided as to the future fate of the vessel.

AUGUST ARRIVED HERE LAST NIGHT

Norwegian Vessel Will Start Loading Lumber To-morrow Morning at Ogden Point

After loading lumber at Port Alberni, the Norwegian steamer, August arrived at the William Head quarantine station last night and today is undergoing fumigation. Tomorrow morning the vessel will commence loading 450,000 feet of lumber at Pier A, Ogden Point, consigned to Boston.

Upon completing her loading here the August will proceed to Fraser Mills and Vancouver for further cargo. At Vancouver the vessel will load a big shipment of flour for Trinidad, British West Indies.

The August will arrive back here about November 15 to complete her cargo.

HALIBUT EXPERTS TO SWEEP SEAS IN SEARCH FOR LIFE FACTS OF GREAT FOOD FISH

Scandia to Brave Winter Gales, Tagging Halibut and Fishing for Tiny Eggs Which Will Reveal Life Habits, Now Deep Mystery to Scientists; Thompson, Here to Map Out Programme With Babcock, Records Fine Progress

W. F. Thompson, internationally-known scientific expert on the Pacific Coast halibut and director of investigations for the International Halibut Commission, came to Victoria to-day to confer with John P. Babcock, chairman of the commission, and lay plans for extensive investigations along the halibut banks of northern British Columbia and Alaska.

MAKING PROGRESS

Remarkable progress has been made by scientists under Mr. Thompson in seeking all the facts about the halibut's movements and the reasons for its depletion, Mr. Babcock said after he had talked this work over with the director of investigations.

A heavy programme of Winter work lies ahead of the halibut scientists, he added. The commission's fishing craft, the "Scandia," will leave Seattle shortly to fish all Winter in the northern halibut banks.

TO TEST SPAWNING BEDS

Concentrating her work off Yakutat where, acording to the legend of northern fishermen, halibut congregate from surrounding districts to reproduce their young, the "Scanda" will catch thousands of fish and tag them. When they are recaught next year their location will indicate the movement of the halibut generally—facts which must be known before the commission can recommend measures for the preservation of the fish.

In addition, Mr. Thompson stated, it is planned to commence the first systematic attempt ever made to find out all about the spawning habits of the halibut. This will be accomplished by the collection of the eggs and larvae of the fish, which float about the ocean. To catch them the "Scandia" will use specially-constructed nets, with which the halibut grounds will be swept. By examination of the eggs thus caught the experts will find out those mysterious facts about the halibut's life habits that it must have before it can take definite action to save the fish from extinction.

TO CATCH TINY EGGS

The task that confronts the experts is realized when it is understood that a halibut's egg is about half the size of a pea. To catch these tiny globules in the vast extent of ocean around Yakutat will be a formidable job.

Exhaustive data already has been collected by the Commission's scientists in the course of extensive tagging operations, but it has yet to be analyzed before conclusions can be drawn from it, Mr. Thompson said. This work is under way now, and meanwhile the "Scandia" will set out on her mir-Winter expedition in the northern seas.

MARINE NOTES

Inbound from California ports, the Kingsley Navigation Company's steamer, E. D. Kingsley, will dock at the Evans, Coleman and Evans Inner Harbor Docks this evening at 6 o'clock. The vessel will put off about 130 tons of cargo here.

BETTER EUROPEAN AND U.S. UNDERSTANDING URGED BY BRUCE

London, Nov. 5.—Addressing the United States Chamber of Commerce here yesterday, Premier S. M. Bruce of Australia said it would be impossible for the United States to play the part she must play in world reconstruction until the "misunderstanding in Europe that the United States is holding the world for ransom" is removed.

He pleaded for better European understanding of United States aims and aspirations, and also asked the United States to bear with Europe in her old world difficulties and to continue her sympathy and efforts to understand European post-war problems.

Let Him Up

"Have you seen Johnson lately?" asked one motor-fiend of another.

"Unfortunately," remarked the latter, "I ran across him only last night."

U.S. Coastguards Will be Charged With Rum Running

Washington, Nov. 5.—Courtmartial trial of four enlisted men of the United States coastguard in the Boston district on charges of rum running will be ordered, it was stated today at headquarters here.

A report from Commander W. J. Wheeler, who conducted an investigation, was received. It exonerated all officers from connection with the transactions which are alleged to have taken place almost a year ago.

The report charged the rum running was carried on by enlisted men using coastguard launches.

Ships Not Affected By Lake Storms

Fort William, Ont., Nov. 5.—Weather conditions at the head of Lake Superior have not yet been affected by any of the storms that have swept the lower lakes. James A. Speers, manager of the Lake Shippers' Clearance Association, declared yesterday afternoon the arrival and departure of boats had not been affected by weather. Reports of stormy conditions farther down the lakes, however, made some of the boats that cleared yesterday morning, delay leaving for some hours.

FOG LIFTED IN THE GULF LAST NIGHT

Shipping Not Hampered by White Blanket That Hung Over Victoria

Victoria experienced her first fog this year, yesterday afternoon and evening. Although the white mass hung thick over the city and vicinity it failed to delay coastwise shipping last night.

Reports issued this morning by steamship companies, stated that the heavy mass had lifted from the Gulf of Georgia last night shortly after 9 o'clock.

The night steamer to Victoria from Vancouver arrived here right on schedule this morning while the steamer Sol Duc making her usual run from Seattle to Victoria experienced clear weather coming across the gulf from Port Angeles early this morning.

Last night Norwegian freighter August, arrived safely at the William Head quarantine station from Port Alberni.

Transportation in Victoria was hampered by the fog. Motor and street cars were forced to proceed cautiously, while pedestrians looked two or three times before crossing streets.

Remarkable Profits In French Government 6% Bonds

WE BELIEVE that an investment made to-day in French Government 6% Bonds (Loan authorised Dec. 16th 1920; redeemable at par at the option of the French Government on or after Jan. 1st, 1931), presents an extraordinary opportunity for profit in the event of any material advance in the value of French money (francs).

Owing to the depreciation of French francs a French Government 6% Bond of 1,000 francs denomination can now be bought for $25.00. With the bond at par and French exchange at normal this same bond would have a value of $193.00.

International bankers believe that the French franc will sell above 5 cents per franc before very long. Just think what this means to French Government securities when a rise of merely 1 cent in the franc means an immediate profit of 40% on the investment. When the French franc sells at 5 cents per franc or $50.00 per 1,000 francs your profit will be $25.00 on every bond of 1,000 francs, French Government 6% Loan or 100% for every $25.00 invested to-day.

With the French franc at 10 cents per franc (a little over one-half its par value) each bond of 1,000 francs French Government 6% Loan would be worth $100.00, representing a profit of $75.00 or over 300% on the $25.00 invested to-day.

We made a lengthy and thorough investigation to determine the best way to buy French francs for maximum profits. We believe that the French Government 6% Bonds afford the best and logical medium for they represent to French investors precisely what Canadian Government Victory Bonds represent to Canadian investors, being legal investments for every institution, trust fund and savings bank in France and constitute a strictly high-grade, gilt-edge government investment. They may be sold again instantly for spot cash at the prevailing rate not only in France (the bonds are listed on the Paris Bourse) but throughout the principal financial centres of the world. The interest coupons have always been paid promptly on the dot and can be cashed in Montreal, New York,—London, Rome, Amsterdam, Brussels, Madrid, Berne, Berlin, Vienna, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Bucharest, Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Aires and in fact throughout the world at the current rate for francs.

French francs, we believe, will unquestionably and ultimately come back to their full gold value of $193.00 per 1,000 francs. A little over a century ago the United States owed 32 millions of dollars—a gigantic sum at that time—to Europe, and being then purely an agricultural country with no developed resources, her situation was considered very bad at the time. Again, after the American Civil War gold sold at a premium of almost 200% in New York but British, French and Dutch investors, more accustomed to that sort of thing because of their international viewpoint, only saw in the depreciated currency an opportunity for very large profits by investment in gilt-edged but depreciated American securities. To-day the United States form one of the richest countries in the world.

Probably ten times as destructive by comparison with the late World War (which resulted in the depreciation of the monetary unit of practically every country in the world) was the war of 1865-1870 between Brazil and Paraguay, which resulted in the virtual blotting out of all of Paraguayan manhood, practical bankruptcy, huge indemnities, and which, in the country, left twenty-five women for each surviving male, no manufactures and no highly-educated nationalism such as France enjoys to-day. Paraguay eventually recovered and those who had faith in the recovery of that nation earned fortunes.

England, too, once faced what seemed to be a financial disaster. During the Napoleonic wars British securities sank to next to nothing; but soon after the Victory of Waterloo British bonds soared returning vast fortunes to those who had purchased them when things looked blackest for England, and sold them after Wellington's victory became known.

France, bankrupt at the hands of Bismarck during the Franco-Prussian War of 1870, suffered an experience which is still within the memory of living man and which serves to set at rest any doubt as to the ability of the French people to completely restore their public finances; her Government bonds sold down to 7% of their normal value—they looked hopeless—but within a few years France had set her house in order, discharged all of her obligations and the bonds were again back to par. In fact, records show that French securities sold over par—making fortunes for those who had possessed grit and enterprise to invest in the temporarily depreciated Government bonds of France.

Recent history has shown remarkable examples of the rehabilitation of nation's finances.

After the World War England saw the day that only $3.35 could be obtained for one pound sterling. English currency had lost about one-third of its international value. At this moment the situation has righted itself and the British pound is once more worth its full value in the international market.

Every Canadian remembers that a few years ago, in 1920 and 1921, when exchanging Canadian money for American money he could obtain only $82.00 American money for 100 Canadian dollars. There were predictions at that time that an even larger depreciation of Canadian money would take place but fortunately these did not materialize. Investors in the United States perceived that purchasing Canadian Government and municipal bonds was bound to turn out remunerative sooner or later. The Canadian dollar started to recover its international value and at the present moment the situation is even reversed. Canadians can obtain slightly more than 100 American dollars for $100.00 in Canadian money. Many Canadian Government and municipal bonds are now selling considerably above par.

The Swiss franc, after the war, was quoted at 15 cents per franc or $1,500.00 per 10,000 Swiss francs. To-day the Swiss franc is quoted above par or at more than $1,930.00 per 10,000 Swiss francs—showing a gain of $430.00 on every 10,000 Swiss francs purchased a few years ago. Shrewd investors earned a satisfactory profit on their investment.

The Dutch guilder, Holland's monetary unit, in the wake of the war, depreciated to less than 30 cents per guilder or $3,000.00 per 10,000 guilders. To-day 10,000 guilders are worth $4,020.00—showing a net gain of $1,020.00 on every 10,000 guilders. Investors are reaping their rewards to-day.

The Swedish krone after the World War sold down to $1,765.00 per 10,000 Swedish krone. To-day the value of the same 10,000 Swedish krone is $2,680.00—a generous profit of $915.00 has been reaped by investors on every 10,000 Swedish krone purchased a few years ago.

After the great havoc wrought by the earthquakes in Japan a few years ago, the yen, the monetary unit of the Japanese empire, rose from 37 1-2 cents per yen or $3,750.00 per 10,000 yen to 48 cents per yen or $4,800.00 per 10,000 yen—a substantial improvement of $1,050.00 for every 10,000 yen purchased by far-sighted investors who were astute enough to see that it was only a question of time before the Japanese yen would rise sufficiently as to yield them substantial profits.

The recent rapid rise of Danish exchange has been rather remarkable. In 1921—five years ago—the Danish krone sold as low as 13 cents per krone or $1,300.00 per 10,000 krone. The quotation to-day on the Danish krone is 26.60 cents per krone of $2,660.00 per 10,000 krone—a net gain in five years' time of $1,360.00 or over 100% on every 10,000 Danish krone purchased. Many investors, five years ago, did not share our opinion that this exchange would be back to par before very long.

The remarkable advance of the Norwegian exchange clearly emphasizes the fact that history is repeating itself every day of our lives. From 11.7 cents per krone or $1,170.00 per 10,000 Norwegian krone, the value has risen in a few short years to the present quotation of 24 cents per krone or $2,400.00 per 10,000 krone—a profit of $1,230.000 on every 10,000 Norwegian krone purchased. The Norwegian krone has not yet reached par but it is expected that in the comparatively near future the unit will touch 26.80 cents per krone or $2,680.00 per 10,000 krone. Our clients who are still interested in Norwegian exchange feel as we do—that it is only a question of time before the Norwegian krone will touch par.

A few years ago Spain's monetary unit, the peseta was quoted at 11.75 cents per peseta, or $1,175.00 per 10,000 pesetas. Spanish exchange has now recovered to 15.84 cents per peseta or $1,584.00 per 10,000 pesetas—an enhancement of $409.00 on every 10,000 pesetas. This unit is also expected to touch par shortly.

South American exchanges are daily showing similar wide and substantial improvements in their value. The Argentine peso, not so long ago, was worth only 28.30 cents per peso or $2,830.00 per 10,000 pesos. To-day the Argentine peso is quoted at over 40.80 cents per peso or $4,080.00 per 10,000 pesos showing a profit of $1,250.00 on every 10,000 Argentine pesos. These facts speak for themselves.

The history of the world convinces one forcibly that the most difficult thing to destroy is national existence. When millions of men and populations of nations lend their collective efforts nothing is impossible. The French franc will come back.

We believe that the greatest opportunity of the present generation to earn remarkable profits exists to-day for investors through the purchase of French Government 6% Bonds. These securities rank as the pre-eminent class of French Government bonds and are virtually a mortgage on the potential and vast resources of the Republic of France. These bonds are valid for thirty years after date of call and the interest coupons payable June 16th and December 16th are valid for five years after their respective due dates, thus enabling the investor to cash them at any time in the interval that the exchange rates are in his favor. The higher the rate of the franc the more Canadian dollars will the investor obtain for his interest-coupons. Thus as the franc rises, not only will the value of the bonds increase but the interest-income will become greater and greater.

It will be seen that at the present rate of the franc the holder of a 10,000-franc French Government 6% Bond will receive for his coupons which always aggregate 600 francs per annum a sum in Canadian money equivalent to a return of over 7% on his investement, that is, the cost of a 10,000-franc bond which is at present $250.00. When the franc reaches 8 cents however, the value of the coupons will be much higher; 600 francs will be worth $48.00 which, on an investment of $250.00 is equal to a yield of 19%.

When the franc has reached 10 cents or $1,000.00 per 10,000-franc bond the return will be still higher. Every 600 francs in interest coupons will bring $60.00 when cashed. Here the yield is 24%. At 15 cents per franc the coupons on a 10,000-franc bond (which bond costs only $250.00 to-day against a normal exchange value of $1,930.00), will be worth $90.00 representing a return of 36%. And lastly, with the franc at par the coupons for one year amounting to 600 francs will be worth $115.80. This sum is equivalent to an interest yield of over 46% on the original investment of $250.00.

French industries are thriving and working overtime—France is rapidly re-entering the export markets of the world, her shipping is crowding the world's ports, and the nation shows every evidence of material and economic progress. Reparations payments are enhancing the French treasury. A great wave of confidence is sweeping over France since the Poincare Government, including six ex-premiers, took power. It is estimated that no less than eight hundred millions of gold dollars held by French nationals abroad, are beginning to flow back into the country. The circulation of French currency is being drastically curtailed. The millions of dollars expended by tourists form a great addition to the wealth of the nation. These conditions should be quickly reflected in rapid enhancements in the value of French francs and in French Government bonds. That is why we urge you to buy now while these securities are on the bargain counter.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Nov. 5 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Market acted in more impressive manner for greater part of the day, but met profit taking in the late afternoon. Steel common reflected prospects of a favorable tonnage statement Wednesday, and some of those friendly to General Motors are still talking of a $5 extra dividend in near future. Both Steel and General Motors were for the greater part of the session the prominent features, and directed the course of the general market aided by the equipments. Texas Gulf was also strong in the industrial section in recognition of a probable increase in the dividend rate to $4. While other features in this respect were Warner Bros. and Consolidated Gas.

There was no outstanding change in the tenor of the news, but Texas Co. and S.O. of Ky. and various others have met the 35-cent cut in North Louisana and Arkansas crude made by Standard Oil of Louisana.

In view of the fact that the recovery in the past two sessions has been very rapid, it was natural to expect the market to meet with a good volume of profit taking.

New York, Nov. 5 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: To-day's market developed the greatest activity witnessed for more than a week and prices in the speculative leaders scored substantial advances during the first three hours.

Steel was the outstanding feature of the forward movement in the industrials pushing into new high ground on the movement in anticipation of a big increase in forward orders at the end of October in the statement due November 10.

Call money was quoted all day at 4 1-2 despite large withdrawals by banks wishing to replenish their reserves at the Federal.

FRENCH FRANC RISES 50 PER CENT IN LAST 2 MONTHS

French Bonds Keep Pace With Advance in Currency

Montreal, Nov. 5. — Attention has been directed to the remarkable recovery of the French franc from the low level of the year. The rise to 3.26½ cents yesterday shows an increase of 67 per cent from the year's lowest quotations of 1.93¾ touched on July 20. French Government internal securities have gained considerably.

Montreal, Nov. 5. — There is evidence that throughout the world's financial centres the belief is held that the French franc is due for a strong rise.

Under the Poincare regime, with six ex-premiers at the helm of the ship of state, France has been making rapid strides in the restoration of her public finances. In recent weeks the france has been gaining ground steadily, and yesterday was quoted as high as 3.26½ cents.

During the two months in which the Poincare ministry has been in power, the franc has increased in value by fifty per cent. This is considered as being a very moderate enhancement in view of the tremendous improvements in the situation. Not only has the Government provided for sufficient taxes to show a very satisfactory surplus in its budget, but the floating debt has been re-organized on a basis that is considered very satisfactory. The State has been making heavy re-payments to the Bank of France, while consistently reducing the amount of notes in circulation.

Apart from the fundamental factors of the situation, the spirit of optimism that now permeates every circle of French life makes the outlook for the recovery of the French franc brighter than it has been since the Armistice.

It is apparent by the increasing demand for French Government securities payable in French currency—and which therefore increase in value as the franc rises—that Canadian investors are awake to the situation. A heavy accumulation of these bonds is reported.

Attention has also been called to the greatly improved tone in the foreign exchange markets generally. Not only has the franc enjoyed great improvement, but sensational advances have been made in Italian and Norwegian exchange.

The Italian lire has within slightly more than two months risen from 3.22 cents to 4.50 cents.

The drastic deflation policy of Mussolini for the restoration of the lire, with persistent reduction in the note of circulation and other fiscal reforms, has not only produced a rising rate for the lire, but has attracted a world-wide buying movement to Italian exchange which has assisted in the process.

The Norwegian krone has risen from three cents to twenty-five cents per krone within two weeks time. This unit is very close to par, and it is expected that Norway will return to the gold standard within the near future.

Japanese and Spanish exchange have also been very strong, and while Brazilian milreis has suffered a rather severe break, it is now regaining lost ground.

It is believed that these improvements in European and other exchanges reflect the great strides made by the countries concerned in the improvement of their public finances, since these were demoralized by the effects of the war.

FINDS INDUSTRY HERE TURNING TO ELECTRICITY

"Business in the electrical as well as in other field, is splendid on Vancouver Island, everything is being electrified now, especially in the lumbering industry," said M. K. Pike, general sales manager of the Northern Electric Company, who arrived at the Empress Hotel yesterday on his annual inspection trip. He is accompanied on his tour by Russell C. Ronalds, vice-president of the Ronalds Advertising Agency, which handles extensive newspaper advertising throughout Canada.

"In the big Chemainus mill up the Island, which is fully electrified, it required fifteen miles of conduits to handle the wires. Mills and plants of all kinds are getting away from steam entirely."

Mr. Pike stated that business was generally good throughout all the territory that he had passed through. The increase in the business of his company has made it necessary to build an addition to the Montreal factory of 70,000 square feet, at a cost of $400,000.

A firm believer in the power of the press for dissemenating the proper kind of information, Mr. Pike points out that it is only necessary to look at the type of institutional advertising used by his company to realize that they carry out this belief.

"Canada has gone farther than most countries in the development of electricity, but I wonder if young people fully realize it. Why does young Canada so often look beyond Canada for its view of continued industry. My company is proud to tell people of the Dominion's water power, of the growth of enterprise in that white coal which is the basis of Canada's industrial future," concluded Mr. Pike.

Mr. Ronalds stated that his clients are authorizing more and more expenditure in the West, on the advice of his company. Figures he has compiled show that the per capita purchasing power of British Columbia is greater than other sections of the Dominion. Higher wages and more prosperity, all show that the coast can compare favorably with Ontario.

"We have found our clients are more and more in favor of the press for distribution of the proper kind of publicity material, and that they are willing to authorize us to distribute their advertising in this manner," said Mr. Ronalds.

With Mr. Pike and Mr. Ronalds in Victoria was W. C. Mainwaring, sales manager for British Columbia. They were met here by George Briscoe, Vancouver Island representative.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Trade broadened in the wheat market here to-day, bringing with it price advancements following good buying by millers and shippers. The close was strong, ⅛ to 1⅛ cents higher, with November at 144⅛, December 139⅜ and July 142⅛.

Opening prices were weak. Late in the session adverse reports from the Argentine caused values to climb when shorts entered the market.

There was a little export business working, but the volume was quite moderate.

Traders here predict a heavy loss to shippers unless grain moves out more quickly from seaboard. Shipments of wheat from Western Canadian farms continue heavy and bay port elevators are reported nearing capacity.

Coarse grains were in good demand to-day and values ranged higher.

A fair trade was reported in cash wheat to-day, but coarse grains were featureless.

Winnipeg, Nov. 5 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat: Unexpected weakness in Liverpool, cables coming 1⅛ to 1⅛ lower caused general selling at the start on this market and opening prices were ⅞ to one cent lower, but good buying of November by millers and seaboard buying May brought about a reaction and opening losses were regained. The market held steady with only a light trade passing until midsession when a cable received by Cromwell the American crop expert now in the Argentine stated that the first trade of the red stage of black stem rust had appeared.

With the Argentine crop at its critical period the report caused nervousness among local shorts who started to cover and prices were boosted another cent but the full bulges were not held. The November position showed relatively more strength than the deferred, and final figures were 1⅛ to ⅞ cents higher.

Winnipeg, Nov. 5 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct pit wire)—Wheat opened sharply lower in sympathy with Liverpool cables but the low point for the day was established immediately after the opening. Selling pressure disappeared on the decline and scattered buying for seaboard and milling accounts together with resting orders from commission houses soon absorbed the offering.

The market advanced steadily working as high as 1 1-2 cents over previous day's close, but all of the advance was not maintained. The Liverpool market closed 1 3-8 to 1 5-8d lower and Buenos Ayres was 3-4 cents lower at noon.

News from Argentina was mixed, some sources indicating favorable conditions with average yields indicated, but Cromwell cabled that northern provinces had had too much rain and first traces of black stem rust had appeared.

New York, Nov. 5.—Whitney to-day says:

"Yesterday's market justified the short terms position taken on the general market by recapturing and exceeding the high point made on the rally following the October decline. This top in the combined averages was made on October 28 and represented an average recapture of 47 per cent. of the decline, which ran from the first to the twentieth of that month. The position was taken at that time that, despite the fact we had had a rally equal to the normal expectation, a rally top had not been made, but that more than normal expectation would be witnessed. This position is still maintained, and having recaptured the former top yesterday with the short term outlook still pointing up, I am confident that justification of the position will be much demonstrated in the market during the remainder of this week and next week.

"Texas Gulf Sulphur is expected to pass into higher ground to-day and for advance to continue. As a long range prediction, I believe the stock will sell around 60 before end of year.

"I expect the advance in Steel common to continue, as well as the move in Industrial Alcohol. Outside of General Motors and White, I can find nothing in motor group which is attractive."

New York, Nov. 5.—America is on the eve of record prosperity, Charles M. Schwab is confident.

New York, Nov. 5.—Gradual cut in motor prices is expected.

New York, Nov. 5.—Hudson Motor Co. adds four-door sedan to Essex line.

New York, Nov. 5.—Federal Reserve system ratio 72.88, against 73.6 a week ago and 71.5 a year ago. N.Y. Federal Reserve Bank ratio 80.1.

New York, Nov. 5.—Pennsylvania Railroad orders electrical equipment for ninety-three cars from Westinghouse Electric Co. and General Electric.

MARKETS TO CLOSE FOR ARMISTICE DAY

New York, Nov. 5. — The New York stock market and other United States markets will be closed Thursday, November 11, Armistice Day.

San Antonio, Nov. 5.—Thos. J. Golding, fifty-six, for years a prominent figure in the newspaper and political world of California, died yesterday in a hospital here. He was chemist inspector at Fort Sam Houston. Golding spent most of his life in newspaper work and at one time was managing editor of the Los Angeles Herald. In California he took active part in politics.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Nov. 5 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat—Moved over an erratic course to close slightly higher for the day. Weakness in Liverpool due to the hope that an early settlement of the coal strike would be effected, attracted a rush of selling orders at at outset and prices tumbled. A good class of buying developed on the break and the market bulged sharply offerings increased on the advance. The seaboard uncovered very little export business of consequence. Winnipeg, however was firmer than Chicago for the day and reports from there had mills good buyers.

Stocks of wheat at Minneapolis for the week increased 525,000 bushels. North American clearances of wheat and flour for the week totaled 10,928,000 bushels compared with 11,768,000 bushels last week and 7,131,000 bushels last year. So far this season clearances aggregate 171,791,000 bushels against 121,755,000 bushels last year. Marketings of wheat in the Canadian West continue fairly liberal, totaling 3,900,000 bushels yesterday.

Chicago, Nov. 5 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Pit Wire)—Wheat market was decidedly unsettled breaking sharply with Liverpool early only to rally later above the finish of the previous day on aggressive buying and short covering based on the strength in Winnipeg and on Cromwell's report showing back rust in wheat in parts of the Argentine.

Montreal Stocks

Montreal, Nov. 5 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wire)—While trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange in the forenoon session to-day embraced a wide range of issues, the volume of transactions was somewhat restricted and price changes did not assume any particular trend. Throughout the session there appeared to be a moderately good demand for stocks for investment account which helped to maintain a steady level of prices.

Two issues advanced to new high records. B.C. Fishing was under persistent accumulation for some days past broke into further new high ground right at the opening when it sold at 81. It later reacted fractionally but closed at the opening quotations. The other stock to register no new mark was Quebec Power preferred. From an opening of 166 it advanced to 168 in late trading and closed at this level.

Brazilian was the most active single issue in the list and showed a net gain of ⅞ at its close of 108⅞. Montreal Power was off ¼, while Shawnigan after opening 2 points down at 264 recovered to 268½ at the close, up ½. Spanish River was stronger and at 104¾ showed a gain of ⅝.

MEDLARS GROWN LOCALLY ON SALE

Great English Fruit Delicacy, Produced at Sidney, Are on the Market

Many Old Country people in town will be pleased to learn that medlers, one of the greatest fruit delicacies in England, are now on the local market. The medlar is like a small over-ripe apple, and is an acquired taste of the English palate. The consignment on the local market was grown at the Dominion Government Experimental Farm at Sidney. There is only a very limited amount on sale.

The crab apple season is now practically over, according to local wholesalers, and there will be practically none left within a week.

AT THE THEATRES

"MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH" LETS NOTHING WORRY HER

Nothing worries Mrs. Wiggs, and her housekeeping methods sometimes lack system. A saucepan is as likely to be found hidden under the bed as in its proper place. But on the other hand, trifles don't trouble her, and she is always willing to give everybody the benefit of the doubt. Thus although appearances are certainly against little "Lovey Mary," when she arrives in the village, Mrs. Wiggs takes her in, baby and all.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at the Coliseum Theatre is well-produced and well acted and this week's offering would rank high in theatrical work anywhere.

TEASING TURNED TO PRAISE FOR WARNER BROTHERS' DIRECTOR

"Ol' Billy Bodeen is a big string-bean," sang his tormentors when William Beaudine, director of Warner Bros. production, "The Social Highwayman" was a kid. But this childish commentary on his figure was quickly changed, as such things often are, from a tease-song to a battle hymn. When Billy came into the neighborhood his long range fistic prowess installed him immediately as the gang leader and champion, and the string-bean song became a battle chant when gangs ran afoul of each other and their champions stood out before their hosts to join battle by a preliminary single combat.

Billy grew much taller but not much wider so that he is still comparable to string-beans, fishing rods, bean poles and other long drawn out things. This effect is accentuated by the shock of reddish brown hair which stands straight up on his head. His favorite hat is an open-air affair, the remnant of a typical farmer boy straw-hat. The hair shoots right up through the crown and the brim has much in common with a cat which has walked through a thrashing machine. "The Social Highwayman" is showing at the Playhouse this week.

DUMBELL IN "THE STRONG MAN" WAS REALLY HEAVY ONE

Crowds who have enjoyed Harry Langdon's performance in "The Strong Man" keep asking about the weight used by Langdon in one of the funniest scenes.

The truth is that the dumbell weighed a hundred pounds, and Harry could only hold it up for three minutes before he dropped it. "The Strong Man," a First National picture, is Langdon's second feature comedy. It is being shown at the Capitol Theatre until Saturday.

LONDON TELEPHONE DIRECTORY USEFUL IN DOMINION FILM

When Thomas Meighen went to Ireland for scenes in Paramount's "Irish Luck," the property man returned with bags filled to bursting with new "props."

One of them came to light for the first time recently when Adolphe Menjou was making his Paramount film, "The Ace of Cads," which is playing at the Dominion this week. The story is laid in London, and Director Luther Reed was anxious to portray the English atmosphere realistically. A reading of the script showed that each of the principals—Mr. Menjou, Alice Joyce, Norman Trevor, Philip Strange and Suzanne Fleming—had to use a telephone in the picture.

The property department came forward. "Here's just the thing to make these scenes realistic." The director examined the proferred "prop."

It was a genuine, five-pound London telephone directory, said to be the only one in a motion picture property room this side of the Atlantic.

LAUGH SENSATION, "THE FRESHMAN," ON COLUMBIA SCREEN

Harold Lloyd is certainly entitled to feel proud over his accomplishment of "The Freshman," which sent audiences at the Columbia Theatre yesterday out onto the street limp with laughing. The laughs start gently at first and work up so gradually and evenly that you don't realize what is happening to you until you find yourself sobbing, "Oh, Oh!" for more breath! Too hearty laughter is a joyous sort of agony no one resents.

The freshman, Harold Lamb, enters college with queer notions as to how a student should act to become the most popular chap on the campus. One of his ideas, gleaned from a movie, is that one should do a fancy jig step every time he is introduced to anyone. This jig, and the fact that he tells every new acquaintance that he's just a regular fellow and they should step right up and call him "Speedy," attracts the immediate attention of the school's chief jokester, and after that poor Harold has no rest.

"WANDERING JEW" LEGEND IS FAMOUS

Theme of Play to be Produced Here by Matheson Lang Originated Years Ago

How or when the story originated is wrapped in mystery, but it is a curious fact, that almost every country has some legend of a being who could not die, but was condemned for some great sin to live on, outcast and accused, beyond the span of human life; and undoubtedly the story of the Jew who had insulted Christ on the day of the Crucifixion and wandered over the face of the earth under a curse, which condemned him to live throughout the ages, is the most widely known and—strange though it may seem—even still the most widely-believed of all of these. The version of the legend which Temple Thurston has used in "The Wandering Jew" which will be produced at the Royal Victoria Theatre next wek by Matheson Lang, is that of a shoemaker in Jerusalem who struck and spat upon Christ as he stumbled beneath the weight of His Cross on the way to Calvary, crying, "Go faster!" "I go, but thou shalt wait till I return," Jesus replied.

According to a pamphlet printed at Leyden in 1602, this man was encountered in Hamburg by Paulus Von Eizen, Bishop of Schleswig, to whom he related how he was present at the Crucifixion and had brought upon himself the curse of Christ. Since then the Wandering Jew, it is claimed, has been met with in many cities — Astrakan, Vienna, Paris, Brussels, Prague, Ypres, Leipzig, Newcastle, Hull and London among them. There are many people living even to-day who are firmly convinced of his continued existence.

It was with great anxiety that Temple Thurston and Matheson Lang waited at the first performance in London for the reception by the audience of that first episode—the Procession to Calvary—and their relief at the profound impression that it made, was immense. To read such a scene in cold print is one thing—to portray it on the stage quite another! and yet, so reverently, so beautifully has Thurston treated it that never in the long run in London or in the hundreds of performances given in other cities, has one single voice been raised in anything but approval.

NEW CIVIC CENTRE FOR VANCOUVER DEBATED

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Illustrating his remarks with maps and plans, H. A. Stone delivered an address on the "Proposed Civic Centre" before the members of the Vancouver Kiwanis Club in the Hotel Vancouver yesterday at noon.

"The civic centre," declared the speaker, "has been before the public for the last sixteen or seventeen years. In 1914 prizes were offered for the best set of plans, and these were judged by Thomas Adams, one of the leading experts of the world on town planning. The set which was selected as the most suitable is the one I am using to illustrate my talk to-day."

Dealing with the subject in a general way, Mr. Stone pointed out there was little building on Beatty Street between the proposed site of the civic centre and the low-lying territory around False Creek, so the civic building when erected could be seen from all over the district. He stated that in all the site of the proposed centre would occupy 14½ acres and would lie between Georgia, Beatty, Pender and Hamilton Streets.

"There was never a more suitable time for the purchase of the property in the territory required for this purpose," declared the speaker.

Comparing the situation with other cities, Mr. Stone said it was the custom in all cities to build the administrative offices and public halls in the heart of the downtown district, where they could be within easy reach of business men. The proposed site was certainly in the centre of the business world of Vancouver.

Stressing his statements in this connection Mr. Strong pointed out that the shipping industry would never leave the waterfront, that the principal Vancouver banks were all stone buildings and would never be moved to other sites, that the lawyers would never leave the vicinity of the courthouse, and that the downtown centre of Vancouver to-day would not shift, but continue as such for all time. Hence there would be no possibility of the city moving from the centre when it was built.

A SERIAL STORY

"The Unwilling Adventuress"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

Death—sudden death—self-inflicted death—the death of a friend—was in itself, sufficient shock to the young and healthy and light-hearted. But to be the cause of such a tragedy!

Doris felt as though she could never know happiness again; never know anything but remorse.

The Count became impatient with such prolonged display of grief. Perhaps he even felt a stab of jealousy.

But most of all, he wanted to be on with certain plans which were rapidly crystallizing in his mind. There was the matter of Doris's letter to the unfortunate poet, for one thing. There was the allusion to jewels, for another.

"Try to pull yourself together, ma pauvre cherie," he urged. "There is much to consider."

"I can think of nothing but Ivan," wailed Doris.

"But he is dead. You can't help him now," protested the Count. "You must consider yourself. You are left to bear the brunt of his rash act. Through that letter of yours which is sure to be pounced on by the police first thing to-morrow, you have linked your name with Ivanoff's suicide. You will be the girl in the case. You will be dragged into the investigation. There'll be unpleasant publicity."

Doris stared at him aghast.

'Oh dear! Can't it be avoided somehow?" The Count smiled thoughtfully.

"I have a scheme—a good scheme. Listen!"

CHAPTER XLIX.

"Tell me quickly what you have in mind!" Doris implored Count Romeo.

She was distressed by the thought that her letter to Ivan Ivanoff, penned in the hope of lessening his pain, would innocently plunge her into the police investigations of the unfortunate poet's suicide.

If anything in her power to do could have helped the unhappy man in any way—could have brought him back to life—she would have been the first to offer herself on whatever altar of sacrifice the circumstances demanded. But it was too late now and after all, in common sense, she was not to blame. It was not her fault that she had not been able to love Ivanoff.

Therefore, she realized only that she was again about to "achieve notoriety," as her Aunt Elsie so bitterly put it. Already she could see, with a shudder, her own name blazoned as "the girl in the case." Once again, she would be plunged into an unpleasant episode with a near-scandalous flavor.

She sighed and begged the Count to tell her what his plan was.

He rose and paced the room.

"Did you sign that letter with your full name?" he asked.

She shook her head.

"Just 'Doris'."

"Ah," he exclaimed with relief. "I hoped so. Of course, there will be little difficulty in establishing the fact that you are Doris for love of whom Ivanoff took his own life. But, with a fresh development to put the authorities off the trail, there will be proof positive that you, and not another of the scores of Dorises in Paris, are the girl in the case. If you accept my proposition, a reasonable doubt will be created, not among our acquaintances who know, but as far as the authorities and the public are concerned."

"Yes?" Doris lifted her eyes hopefully.

"I suggest," said the Count very matter-of-factly, "that you immediately and publicly, announce your engagement to me."

"To you!" gasped Doris.

Her lips began to tremble again.

"But—but—I don't want to marry you."

He shrugged and flicked the ashes carefully from his cigarette.

"Have I mentioned marriage? I suggested merely an engagement."

"But——" Doris was frightfully-bewildered. She also plainly didn't take to the Count's proposition.

"Think it over," he suggested calmly.

He was careful not to approach her, not to say a word of love-making. He didn't want to frighten her, to swing her into an obstinate mood. Her acceptance of his proposal was too necessary to his plans.

Once he could get her bound to him by even the frailest cord he could strengthen it at will. And he meant to do so.

There were three factors in his desire. One was the invaluable aid she rendered him, with perfect innocence, in his secret profession. Another was the fact that she was a woman he desired. The third was concerned with the jewels, hidden in Russia, which were the poet's dying gift to her.

The letter telling of their hiding place was even now in the mails. Doris would receive Ivanoff's last letter in the first post the following morning.

Count Romeo had quite made up his mind into whose possession the family treasures of the Ivanoffs would fall eventually. It would be a very simple matter to secure them from Doris, once he was married to her—or perhaps even when they were merely engaged.

So he decided not to speak of marriage for the present. Perhaps it would not be necessary ever to speak of it. The Count valued his freedom.

"Well?" he inquired after a long silence, "what do you say to my proposal? Let's consider it a mere matter of form. I ask nothing of you. It is my happiness to serve you and to save you from an experience which I can assure you will be unpleasant."

"It seems frightfully cowardly of me to take advantage of your kindness," Doris faltered.

She was thinking a little wearily how tricky life was. Must she always be only a sham? Once to pose as a man's wife when she was not! Again, to pretend to be another's fiancee!

How circumstances reached out and clutched her and forced her to shameful pretences, when with all her heart she yearned for truth! She, who wanted above all else in the world, love and marriage and home and peace!

"I suppose," she said slowly, "I suppose I'll have to accept. I see no other way. But you're being too kind——"

He interrupted her by lifting her fingers to his lips.

"I am being very selfish. You honor me by allowing me the privilege. And now," he said briskly, "I'll be off to attend to details. I'll have the announcement in all the morning papers and I'll spread the happy tidings here and there in the cafes. News travels like wildfire on the boulevards, you know."

He was true to his word. The following morning, such of the world as was interested, gleaned over its rolls and coffee, the news of the engagement of Doris Mackay to Count Romeo.

Two people read it with lively emotion. One was Camilla, the other was Hartley. Both of them acted immediately, in most unexpected fashion.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Nut Party

Copyright, 926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Mother, may we have a nut party?" chattered Billie Bushytail, the boy squirrel, one day as he was going to school.

"Oh, that would be jolly fun!" cried his brother Johnnie as he frisked his tail about his neck like a fur muffler. "I know where there are a lot of butternuts that we didn't gather."

"And I know where there is a pile of hickory nuts," added Billie. "Please, Mother, may we have the party?"

"Do you mean now—stay home from school and have a party now?" asked Mrs. Bushytail, who was bringing in some fluffy stuff from the milkweed plant to line the house and make it warm for Winter.

Uncle Wiggily was among the first to arrive

"Oh, no, not a party now!" laughed Billie. "We'll have it after school if you will let us."

"Why, I think it will be all right after you do your work," said the squirrel lady. "You know you must help me bring in some more of this milkweed lining to keep us warm."

"We'll do that after school!" promised Johnnie. "Hurray for the nut party!"

"For whom are you going to have the party?" asked his mother with a smile. "Usually, you know, parties are given in honor of some one."

The two squirrel boys looked at each other puzzled like, and then Billie chattered:

"This party will be for us—for Johnnie and me."

Mrs. Bushytail was just going to ask her little sons if they didn't think that was rather selfish, to have a party all for themselves, when Johnnie thought the same thing and he cried:

"Our nut party sall be for Uncle Wiggily!"

"Oh, yes! I never thought of that!" added Billie. "We'll have the party for Uncle Wiggily."

Mrs. Bushytail did not want to spoil things by saying Uncle Wiggily never ate nuts, unless someone cracked them for him. Though a rabbit's teeth are made for gnawing the bark of trees, they are not so fashioned as to make it easy for them to gnaw through the hard shells of a nut which Billie and Johnnie could easily do. But the mother squirrel though everything would turn out right. Now let us see if it did.

No sooner did they have permission, that Johnnie and Billie began planning for their party. First they asked Uncle Wiggily to be there, and the rabbit gentleman said he would. For, of course, as it was his party, without him it would seem very funny. Then Billie and Johnnie asked all the other animal boys and girls from Sammie and Susie Littletail down to Jollie and Jillie Longtail.

That afternoon the party was held under the trees in the woods. Uncle Wiggily was among the first to arrive, wearing his tall silk hat, his red trousers and black coat. Johnnie and Billie were there, you may be sure, and they had gathered many nuts, cracking the hard shells for such of their friends who could not do this for themselves.

"Girls and boys!" chattered Billie when all had arrived. "I now declare this party open! Begin to eat!" Johnnie slyly pulled his brother's tail. "What is it?" asked Billie.

"You forgot to say it was Uncle Wiggily's party," spoke Johnnie.

"Oh, yes, I forgot!" went on Billie. "This nut party is for Uncle Wiggily! Now eat!"

"And I'm for Uncle Wiggily, too!" suddenly snarled the Bob Cat jumping out of the bushes and leaping toward the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, stop him! Hit him! Bang him!" cried the animal children, and they began throwing nuts at the bad chap. But the hickory nuts, butter nuts, black walnuts, pecans, almonds and beechnuts were so little they did not stop the Bob Cat. Until, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily picked up a big, round cocoanut like a cannon ball.

"Take that!" he cried, throwing it at the Bob Cat. And the bad chap took the cocoanut right on the end of his nose.

"Wow, zowie!" he howled. "I've had enough of this party!" and away he ran, and then everything was all right. Baby Bunny said Mr. Longears was very brave. And if the eye of the needle doesn't wink at the apple pies growing on huckleberry bush, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Tumble's top.

The Progressive People of This Town Send Messages to Each Other Through the Want Ads!

When an employer publishes a help wanted ad he knows that only progressive people will see and answer it. When a property owner prints a "real estate for sale" ad he knows that not many people will read it except those who are able and inclined to buy real estate.

When a landlord advertises a house or apartment for rent he knows that, as a rule, only the "business like" people read and answer such ads, and that he is not apt to secure an undesirable tenant in that way. And the work-seeker, the capital-seeker, the "sub-landlord" who has rooms to rent—these all know that their messages are interesting to live and progressive people—that no others read "the want ad messages."

THERE'S A WANT AD MESSAGE FOR YOU IN ALMOST EVERY ISSUE OF THIS PAPER!

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1926

Jupiter and Uranus dominate today in benefic sway. Venus, Mars and Saturn are adverse.

Under this direction of the stars the imagination may be exceedingly active. It is a time to plan, for there is encouragement for the carrying out of big outlines of business development.

Judges and lawyers should benefit from this position of the stars, which indicates that they will have many public responsibilities and added honors.

Women are to come to the front as attorneys, but they will encounter difficulties under this planetary government.

Again domestic quarrels appear to be indicated as widely prevalent and divorces will be more numerous than ever, it is foretold.

To-day there is a sign read as presaging some sort of a clash between soldiers and workers.

This is not an auspicious rule for farmers, but unless the signs are misinterpreted they aer to profit from some unexpected condition.

Commercial use of aviation is to become common in this country in the new year, it is foretold.

This sway of the stars is most lucky for inventions of every sort and is read as favorable for aeroplanes and balloons.

It is prophesied that oil interests are to be the cause of a clash between a European power and China.

Saturn and Mars in the fourth and tenth houses are held responsible for the unusual storms. These were predicted by astrologers at the beginning of the year.

Canada and the eastern States are subject to menacing aspects of the planets and they may expect a Winter that is severe.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be very careful to avoid cause for criticism in the coming year, which should be fairly happy.

Children born on this day probably will be great nature-lovers. These subjects of Scorpio will be likely to enjoy solitude and many of them achieve important creative work.

Dr. J. E. Fothergill Died in Manchester

Manchester, Eng. Nov. 5.—Dr. J. E. Fothergill, noted gynecologist, dropped dead last night after the conclusion of a humorous speech delivered at a university banquet here. His last words were: "I have enjoyed to-night one of the best dinners I can remember."

Dr. Fothergill was honorary consulting gynecological surgeon of the Royal Infirmary. He was born in 1865.

Wash., Nov. 5.—The House prosecutors in the impeachment case against Judge English of Eastern Illinois, have agreed to recommend dismissal of the proceeding in view of the jurists resignation yesterday. They will go before the Senate on Nov. 10 and recommend deferment of action until authority from the full House can be obtained for discontinuing the case.

THE TINYMITES
BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

At dawn the Tinymites arose, and Ukey shouted, "Goodness knows, I'm hungry and I've got to have a tasty bite to eat. Let's all hike over to the hay where all the farmers' chickens lay, and maybe we can find an egg. That sure would be a treat."

The old barn door was open wide and once again they went inside, and climbed high up the ladder till they reached the floor above. Said Scouty, "I am sure, by night that we can treat our appetite. A portion of a nice fresh egg is one thing that I love."

Right soon they found a chicken's nest and Ukey warned, "I think it best that we all keep real quiet so the hens won't stay away." And so the Tinymites all hid and 'twas a good think that they did, for very soon a hen walked in to seek a place to lay.

Then came a cackle, long and loud. Of course the hen felt very proud, for she had laid a dandy egg. Now wasn't that real kind? She walked around a while and then the Tinies couldn't see the hen, for she had flown out of the barn and left the egg behind.

"Come on, you Tinies," Coppy cried. "We've got to get this egg outside. I fear it isn't safe to try to eat it up in here." Then Clowny said, "If you are bound to get the egg down on the ground, just leave the task to me for I can do it, have no fear."

A long lean stick was put to use, and Clowny pried the fresh egg loose, and after just a little while he rolled it to the door. And then the Tinies' plans went wrong. The egg kept rolling right along, and 'course they couldn't eat it 'cause it broke upon the floor.

ASPIRIN

Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for

Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Neuritis, Toothache, Lumbago, Rheumatism

DOES NOT AFFECT THE HEART

WARNING! Beware of Counterfeits

There is only one genuine "ASPIRIN" tablet. If a tablet is offered as "ASPIRIN" and is not stamped with the "Bayer Cross"—refuse it with contempt—it isnot "ASPIRIN" at all! Don't take chances!

Safe — Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions.

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid (Acetyl Salicylic Acid, "A. S. A."). While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Insist upon "Phillips"

Each bottle contains full directions—any drug store. (Advt.)

B.C. BEES TO GET COMB MADE HERE IN PLACE OF IMPORTS

Russian Expert Starts Important New Industry to Supply Honey Men

Bee Owners to Keep Wax in Province; Honey Production For Year is up

British Columbia bees will use British Columbia-made combs after this for the storing of their annual honey crop. Marking the definite establishment of this Province as a honey producer, a factory is being established in Slocan City to make comb foundation, which at present is manufactured only in Eastern Canada and must be imported by all the bee-keepers here.

The success of this venture is regarded by officials of the Department of Agriculture as highly important to the Province's growing bee industry as it will reduce the price of combs by eliminating transportation costs and, in addition, will create a good market for bee wax.

The comb factory has been established by V. K. Soharev, a Russian honey expert, who came to British Columbia six years ago from Siberia, unable to speak a word of English. Now is one of Western Canada's leading bee-keepers, having produced eight tons of honey last year.

MODERN PLANT PLANNED

Expensive machinery is being installed at Slocan City to manufacture wax into the thin, pitted film in which bees deposit their honey. The process consists of rolling the wax out into strips like paper and then punching in the peculiarly-shaped little holes which bees make in their own honey combs.

Bee-keepers are recommended by agricultural officials to hold all their spare beeswax from now on in readiness for its treatment at the Slocan City plant. Actual manufacture of comb base will get under way soon after Christmas. The manufacturing process cannot be made a complete success unless an ample supply of beeswax is maintained, it is explained. Bee-keepers are urged not to waste any combs or capping, but to render them all into wax for treatment.

Those, who have no wax press or wax extractor, can render all their cappings and comb into wax by boiling, experts explained. This is a simple process. The cappings or comb from which all the honey has been drained out, are enclosed in a cheese-cloth bag and boiled in a large boiler or saucepan. After a short time the liquid wax floats to the surface of the water and when the water cools the wax forms a solid cake, free of dirt. This can be shipped to Slocan City and there turned into comb base, which makes it unnecessary for bees to manufacture their own honey containers and so use up a lot of their energy.

BEE INDUSTRY GROWS

This year has marked a big advance in British Columbia's honey industry, latest figures show. While complete statistics will not be available until the end of the year, officials estimate the current crop at approximately 800,000 pounds, worth roughly $160,000. Last year the crop amounted to 638,319 pounds, worth $140,430. In addition, the industry produced $4,750 worth of bees-wax. The capital invested in bees, hives and apiary equipment is estimated at just under $400,000.

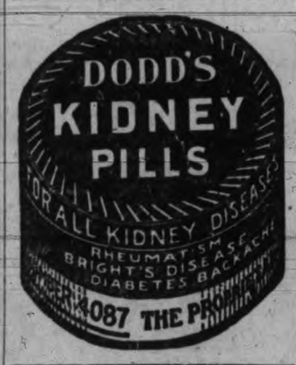
Shirley

Shirley, Nov. 5.—Gay with decorations, spooky with Jack-o-lanterns, peopled by witches, ghosts and merry little black cats, Shirley school house was the scene of a most enjoyable Hallowe'en party given by the "Shirley Samaritans," the local branch of the Junior Red Cross. A clever little play full of local color was very well done, and much appreciated. Merriment reigned supreme when sealed questions written by the audience were cleverly answered by a tall ghost. Guessing contests, a magic fish pond, fortunes and several other Hallowe'en stunts kept the audience busy till the excellent refreshments were served, and the singing of "God Save the King" concluded a very successful entertainment for which the teacher, Miss Morris, and her clever little pupils deserve every credit. The sum of $7.75 was realized, and will go to the crippled children's fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Norvil E. Milligan have returned from their honeymoon and are receiving the good wishes of their many friends here, where they will make their home. The bride (nee Miss Gladys Ross of Victoria), is well-known here, having lived in Shirley several years ago.

W. Cross is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. Sullivan, and his borther, T. E. Cross. He has come from Saskatchewan, where his home is, and is duly impressed by the difference in the climate, this being his first visit to the coast.

The regular monthly service will be held on Sunday at the schoolhouse, Rev. S. Lundie of Knox Presbyterian Church, Sooke, officiating.



OAK BAY WANTS DRIVE CLASSED AS A HIGHWAY

To Interview Government in Effort to Get Beach Drive Named Secondary Highway

Oak Bay will in the near future approach the Provincial Government in an effort to have Beach Drive classed as a secondary highway. At last night's meeting of the council a motion was passed calling for the appoint of a committee to interview Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, on the matter.

The question of Beach Drive was raised through Councillor Money bringing to the council's attention the fact that a footpath is needed on various parts of the drive. Councillor Goodlake also voiced his opinion in favor of the idea and further stated that one part of this road was a regular "death-trap" due to the fact that pedestrians are forced to walk on the narrow road thus endangering themselves to passing automobiles

Reeve Anscomb declared that Oak Bay was paying for the upkeep of a road that was being congested through the use of people outside of the municipality and also tourists. He thought the best way to overcome the difficulty was to interview the Provincial Government on the highway plan.

A communication from Bodwell & Lawson, municipal solicitors, in regard to the northeast sewer agreement, passed by the Oak Bay Council at their last meeting, stated that Saanich wished some minor changes in the agreement. When these have been made the agreement will again be brought up before Oak Bay for their ratification.

Three cases of residents in Oak Bay who need financial assistance were brought up before the council. In one of the cases it was decided to allow the family an allowance of $10 until the end of the year, while in another a grant of $20 was made to pay for certain expenses. In the third case it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the Oak Bay Friendly Help Society.

Two adjoining lots on Crescent Road were sold to W. H. LePage for the sum of $650.

Two complaints from residents regarding the poor condition of two roads were dealt with.

A letter from John Dean, proposing the monthly collection of taxes as is done in certain United States cities, was referred to the finance committee for a report.

Next Wednesday evening the coucil will hold a special committee meeting to discuss three by-laws, namely, water frontage tax by-law, sewer frontage tax by-law, and the streets and traffic by-law.

FAREWELL PARTY AT PIONEER HOMESTEAD

Old-time Families Say Farewell to Miss Carrie Hagan

Brentwood, Nov. 5—The Hagan homestead, Mount Newton, was the scene of an interesting gathering on Tuesday evening when the members of two pioneer families assembled to bid farewell to Miss Carrie Hagan who left on Thursday for Fairbanks, Alaska.

HALF CENTURY AGO

More than fifty years ago, the older generations of the Hagan and Thomson families arrived at Mount Newton and settled in that beautiful part of the Saanich Peninsula, when roads were few, and a trip to town was of no more thought of than a modern motor run.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in recalling the happy times of earlier years when the large families of both houses were growing up together. A bountiful supper was served at midnight and the guests departed with many good wishes to the bride-elect. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thomson, Miss Peggy Thomson, Mrs. A. McKenzie, Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, Mrs. Bissett, Mrs. H. Hughes, Miss Effie Hughes, Richard Thomson, David Thomson, Miss Gladys Thomson, Miss R. Hagan, Miss C. Hagan, Miss N. Hagan and Councillor L. Hagan.

The guild of St. Mary's and St. Stephen's met at the home of Mrs. Hodgson, Mount Newton, on Wednesday afternoon. This was the fortnightly sewing meeting and after a busy afternoon tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. Bagley. The last meeting before the sale of work on Nov. 24, will be held on Nov. 17, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Hole, Clarke Avenue, Brentwood Bay.

The second of the series of card parties under the auspices of the Newton Social Club, was held on Wednesday night. Some very keen games were enjoyed by nine tables of players. Table No. 2—with twenty-five flags was the winner of first place, Mr. T. S. P. Buckle, Father Scheelan and A. Lacousiere being the players at this table. Second prize winners were Mrs. Lacousiere, Miss Gladys Guy, R. Hall and W. D. Mitchell. A social hour was enjoyed after the game and refreshments were served by the ladies' committee. The next game will take place on Nov. 17.

The West Saanich W. I. will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 9, when important business will come before the meeting. A good attendance of members is asked for.

Mrs. Edgar Miles of Victoria, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. R. J. Parsell during the week.

Anglican service for Sunday, Nov. 7, will be: Morning service and Holy Communion at St. Stephen's, 11 a.m.; St. Mary's, 3 p.m.; Institute Hall, Brentwood, 7.30 p.m.

Metchosin

Metchosin, Nov. 5.—There was a very good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Metchosin Women's Institute, held on Wednesday afternoon in the Metchosin Hall. Mrs. J. McCreight, president, occupied the chair.

Among other correspondence were letters from experts in charge of different sections of the potato fair, also a letter from the superintendent of institutes, Mrs. MacLachlan, asking for home cooking and assistance in waiting at tables during the serving of teas, luncheons and banquet at the fair. Several members promised support in one way or another.

The secretary reported the arrival of the new library, and that all suitable books had been passed on to the teacher of the Metchosin School for the use of the school children, and also, having been delegate for the Institute at the recent conference held in Victoria, gave a very full and comprehensive report.

Mrs. A. G. Deveson gave an expert demonstration on icing and decorating the Christmas cake, the process being followed with keen interest. The finished cake, beautifully decorated, was disposed of in competition at the conclusion of the demonstration, Mrs. J. Saltmarsh proving the lucky winner.

Afternoon tea was served to the members by Mrs. Saltmarsh and the meeting adjourned.
